Floods Fatal To Over 250 In Portugal

Hundreds Injured And Thousands Of Homes Destroyed

LISBON, Portugal (AP) — Grieving Portuguese buried their dead and dug away today at the muck and mire left by heavy weekend rains and floods which killed more than 250 persons and destroyed thousands of dwellings in heavily populated Greater Lisbon and surrounding villages.

Hundreds more were injured, and many were missing under tons of debris and mud. Mud-caked bodies were still being recovered in slums of Lisbon's suburbs and nearby villages.

The poor, living in flimsily constructed dwellings, suffered most. As the downpour collapsed house after house, there were relatively few casualties in better built buildings.

Most of the dead and injured were in the low-lying Lisbon suburb of Odivelas, where more than 60 bodies had been counted by sundown Sunday, and in the village of Quintas, about 30 miles north of Lisbon, where more than 90 were reported dead.

Interior Minister Alfredo Rodrigues dos Santos said "approximately 250" were dead but indicated the final toll was expected to be much higher. He directed municipal officials to bury the dead quickly because of the danger of disease and infection.

Residents of the affected area were warned to boil water before drinking it. There were reports health authorities would conduct a vaccination campaign against typhus.

The heavy rains, which the weather Bureau said were unprecedented in many areas, brought disastrous flooding in low sections.

A dike broke in Odivelas, sending water gushing through the small town. The swirling torrents crumbled houses and swept up people, pets, livestock,

Turks Expected To Spurn Greek Answer On Cyprus

ANKARA, Turkey (AP)—U.S. special envoy Cyrus R. Vance returned to Ankara today with Greece's answer to Turkish conditions for averting a military showdown over Cyprus. Informants said it appeared the Turks will reject it.

Battle-ready Turkish troops and tanks waited aboard ships poised just 40 miles from the Mediterranean island republic for an invasion Vance and other diplomats were hopeful could be prevented.

"There's no call for a smile," said Vance after conferences with Greek officials in Athens, "but there is none for a frown either."

Secretary-General Manlio Brosio of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization was also in Ankara with reports of his talks with Greek officials. Brosio said there was hope the two NATO partners could be kept from war.

A Greek Foreign Ministry spokesman said his government told Vance it is willing to negotiate the withdrawal of Greek forces from Cyprus "in return for guarantees by Turkey not to attempt an invasion."

Greece will insist on international guarantees of any such agreement, the spokesman added, including commitments from the North Atlantic alliance and the United Nations.

Informed sources in Ankara said the Turkish demands Vance took to Athens included renewal of the special rights given the Turkish Cypriots by the 1960 agreement on the independence of Cyprus, rights which Cypriot President Makarios took away in 1963; withdrawal of non-Cypriot forces from the island, and Greek compensation for the attack Nov. 15 in which 25 Turkish Cypriots were killed.

An informed source in Ankara said the key point to be resolved was timing of troop withdrawals. Turkey and Greece both reportedly accept the idea of withdrawing troops on Cyprus in excess of the number allowed by the 1960 agreement, but Turkey insists Greece must take her troops off first.

Greece is believed to have between 8,000 and 12,000 troops on Cyprus and Turkey about 1,200. The 1960 agreement allows Greece 950 and Turkey 650. The Greek Cypriots outnumber the Turks 4-1 in a population of 600,000.

Turkey's major cities and its southern coast were blacked out Sunday night. Thousands of Turkish troops boarded ships and paratroopers on the southern coast, and helicopters massed at the airport in Adana. Seven destroyers, three submarines and a tender, three troop transports, two freighters and two passenger liners were seen in the harbor at Mesin.

Athens by contrast was quiet Sunday. The Greeks went to movies, cafes and restaurants while the government-controlled press and radio stressed peace-seeking efforts.

Gunman Killed, Two Others Shot

Trio Used British Executive As Shield But Escapes Unhurt

NILES, Ohio (AP)—One man was shot to death and five others, including four policemen, were wounded early today in a gun battle between police and three men who used a British business executive as a shield.

One of the men who fought police at a motel near here, William Joyce, 27, Youngstown, was mortally wounded with a shotgun blast in the stomach, police Chief Kenneth W. Ottney of Howland Township said. Joyce's 18-year-old brother, John, was wounded and admitted to a hospital in Warren.

The third gunman, not identified immediately, was held by police for questioning.

The wounded policemen, one from Howland Township and three from Niles, were hospitalized and were in satisfactory condition, Niles police said.

They were Sgt. John Mahony, hit in the ear, Edward Karowski, injured in the leg and Joseph Williams, hit in the foot, all of Niles police.

The British businessman, Peter Louri of London, was unhurt. Ottney said he broke away from the men after just a few shots were fired.

The three men came out shooting from a second story room at the motel, in Howland Township just outside Niles, after Howland Patrolman John Mrus went to the motel to investigate a report that someone

And Big Issue Of Session–Taxes

Rested Congress Tackles Controversial Legislation

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rested from a Thanksgiving recess, Congress returns to consider controversial legislation dealing with poverty, foreign aid, Social Security and the big issue of the session—taxes.

Both Senate and House scheduled noon sessions today—but the key decisions will come first in the committee rooms.

President Johnson's proposal for a 10 per cent surtax on income taxes was considered to be on its deathbed two weeks ago and some opponents, both Democratic and Republican, say they still believe it will expire.

But the British government's move Nov. 18 to devalue the pound has produced new arguments from the administration for the tax hike—arguments it hopes will resurrect the tax bill in the House Ways and Means Committee.

Committee Chairman Wilbur D. Mills, D-Ark., who has been strongly opposed to the bill, has scheduled a hearing for Wednesday at which administration spokesmen will present their new arguments. A key element of their case is expected to be a pledge to cut federal spending by $4 billion. Mills has contended government spending cuts must accompany any tax increase.

The hearing's outcome could determine whether Congress will adjourn by Dec. 15. If Mills and a majority of his committee remain opposed to the tax bill, Capital Hill sources said, a Dec. 15 adjournment would be possible.

However, if Mills and his majority have a change of heart and send the bill to the House floor, extensive debate on it could push back adjournment to the end of December.

Rep. Frank T. Bow of Ohio, ranking Republican on the House Appropriations Committee, predicted today that "hasty passage of a tax bill is not likely."

Bow said an administration pledge to cut spending may end the tug of war between the President and Congress.

2 Planes Lost Over North Vietnam

25 U.S. Marines Killed, 134 Wounded In 2 Battles

SAIGON (AP) — Communist forces, striking boldly in three of the most critical areas in South Vietnam Sunday and today, slammed hundreds of mortars into American positions and held off U.S. Marines in two fierce ground battles.

U.S. losses were 25 dead and 134 wounded, while 38 of the enemy were killed, the U.S. Command said.

The U.S. Command announced the loss of two more tactical fighter-bombers over North Vietnam. It said a Marine A6 Intruder was lost to unknown causes Saturday, and an Air Force F4 Phantom went down Sunday during 88 U.S. missions over the North. The four fliers are missing.

This brought to 757 the announced number of U.S. warplanes downed in combat over the North in the nearly three-year-old bombing campaign.

Nineteen Marines and 38 of the enemy were reported killed and 96 Marines were wounded in the Marines' two ground battles just west of Con Thien, below the demilitarized zone, and 100 miles to the southeast, below Da Nang.

The U.S. Command also reported that American forces had found an additional 224 North Vietnamese bodies on the Dak To battlefield bringing to 1,641 the total number of Communists claimed killed in the epic three-week battle. U.S. casualties also were revised upward, to 287 dead and 1,000 wounded.

Communist troops concealed in a heavily fortified village 19 miles southwest of Da Nang hit three companies of attacking Marines Sunday, and a reinforcing company with a savage crossfire of mortars, automatic weapons and small arms fire. Twelve Marines and 16 Communist troops were reported killed in this encounter and 80 Marines were wounded.

Near the DMZ a mile west of the Con Thien outpost, Communist mortarmen on Sunday shelled two companies of advancing Marines with 100 rounds. A dug-in platoon of enemy troops meanwhile kept up a stream of small arms and automatic weapons fire. This battle cost the Marines seven dead and 16 wounded, but the Leathernecks reported killing 22 of the enemy.

The B52s were sent deeper than ever before into North Vietnam after almost bumper-to-bumper truck traffic was reported carrying ammunition and other supplies through the pass to Laos 20 miles away and finally to Communist troops in South Vietnam.

Northeast monsoons continued to limit most of the U.S. air raids on North Vietnam to that country's southern panhandle Sunday. Air Force, Marine and Navy pilots ripped several bridges and a supply area.

The forecast calls for mostly cloudy, windy and much cold-

Tuesday is to be cloudy with continued cold and snow flurries.

Tonight's low is expected to range between 16 and 23.

The temperatures from Tuesday through Saturday will be below normal.

Vandals Hit Beaver Local High School

Estimates of damage as a result of vandalism at Beaver Local High School continued to mount today as authorities discovered new destruction in the building. The loss was tentatively set late this morning at $1,000.

Intruders broke into the high school along Route 7 near Williamsport Sunday, ripped stage curtains, broke into offices, tore wrestling mats, smashed windows and light shades, destroyed a portable blackboard and caused other damage.

Sheriff's deputies said a door to the furnace room was forced to enter the building.

Supt. Roy Cashdollar reported extensive damage to the curtains at the stage. He said the loss also included two wall maps which were cut, and exit signs broken at doors.

Doors to the offices and industrial arts shop were broken by the intruders, who obtained some $30 from Principal Ted Taylor's office and $8 from the book store.

The entry was discovered about 10 last night by custodian George Arthur when he arrived for work. Another custod-

U.N. Assembly Nears Vote On Peking's Bid For Seat

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — The U.N. General Assembly today neared a vote on whether to admit Communist China to the United Nations. It was expected to vote once again to keep Peking out.

Debate on the question, opened a week ago, was expected to end late this afternoon, and one U.N. official speculated that the voting would begin then.

Diplomats generally predicted that the 122-nation assembly would adopt a U.S.-inspired resolution reaffirming that a two-thirds vote is necessary to change China's U.N. representation. They predicted defeat for a resolution by Communist and nonaligned countries to seat the Chinese Reds in place of the Chinese Nationalists and defeat also for an Italian resolution to have a committee study the whole question. That is what the assembly did last year.

The Italian resolution called for a committee to draw up recommendations "for an equitable and practical solution to the question of the representation of China in the United Nations" taking into account "the existing situation and the political realities of the area."

It was generally regarded as looking toward eventual adoption of the "two Chinas" formula calling for both Communist and Nationalist China in the United Nations.

For that reason, the staunchest supporters of the Communist government in Peking and of the Nationalist government on Formosa were all against it, because each claims to be the only legal government of China and rejects the two Chinas idea.

Meanwhile, Swedish diplomat Gunnar Jarring arrived in New York to become Secretary-General U Thant's special representative to seek a peaceful settlement of the Arab-Israeli war.

Jarring, Sweden's ambassador to Moscow, was to go over

Dowd said the loss will be several thousand dollars. The barn was approximately 55-by-80 feet —"the largest in the area" — he said, and contained 2,000 bushels of corn, 2,000 bushels of oats, a sprayer, a tractor, a tractor with a trailer loaded with corn, a corn planter, grain drill, combine and miscellaneous smaller equipment.

Pottery Museums Asked In Capital Funds Project

A total of $600,000 for pottery museums in Columbiana and Perry counties is included in a $10 million capital improvements program submitted today to Gov. James A. Rhodes by the Ohio Historical Society.

Rhodes pointed out, however, there are no immediate plans for implementing the program.

"No bond issues other than the $700 million issue for highways are contemplated at this time," he said after receiving the society's proposal.

The proposed plan calls for pottery museums in Columbiana and Perry counties at a cost of $150,000 and an historical pottery museum and kiln costing $450,000.

The major item in the new list is for an Ohio Historical Center at Ohio Village at the state fairgrounds. It would be a 20 - building complex on a 15-acre site and would cost $2 million.

Other items on the list include a Great Ohioans Hall of Fame costing $750,000; Exhibits center museum, $500,000; Zane Gray National Road Museum, Muskingum County, $700,000; Ohio River museum, Marietta, $900,000; Ohio glass mu-

U.S. Traffic Deaths Under 1967 Record

By The Associated Press

Deaths on the nation's streets and highways mounted steadily Sunday night during the final hours of the long Thanksgiving day weekend, but the death toll was behind last year's record slaughter.

Weary travelers clogged roads on their homeward journeys Sunday and swelled the death toll to 634.

Last year 748 persons were killed over the Thanksgiving weekend, a record for any holiday period.

The count began at 6 p.m. local time Wednesday and ended at midnight Sunday, a 102-hour period.

In comparison, 567 persons were killed in a similar but nonholiday period from 6 p.m. Wednesday, Nov. 8, to midnight Sunday, Nov. 12, an Associated Press survey showed.

Who Says Dog Is Man's Best Friend?

LINCOLN, Neb. (AP) — Who says a dog is man's best friend?

The Nebraska State Game Commission reports that since the Nebraska hunting season opened a few weeks ago, two hunters have been shot by their dogs.

On one occasion, the commission said, a loaded shotgun placed in the back of a pickup truck was fired by a dog stepping on the trigger. The blast struck a 13-year-old hunter in the elbow.

Another hunter placed his shotgun on the ground and was trying to get his young dog interested in a pheasant. As the dog jumped around he stepped on the trigger, shooting the man in the foot.

And Big Issue Of Session–Taxes

Rested Congress Tackles Controversial Legislation

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rested from a Thanksgiving recess, Congress returns to consider controversial legislation dealing with poverty, foreign aid, Social Security and the big issue of the session—taxes.

Both Senate and House scheduled noon sessions today—but the key decisions will come first in the committee rooms.

President Johnson's proposal for a 10 per cent surtax on income taxes was considered to be on its deathbed two weeks ago and some opponents, both Democratic and Republican, say they still believe it will expire.

But the British government's move Nov. 18 to devalue the pound has produced new arguments from the administration for the tax hike—arguments it hopes will resurrect the tax bill in the House Ways and Means Committee.

Committee Chairman Wilbur D. Mills, D-Ark., who has been strongly opposed to the bill, has scheduled a hearing for Wednesday at which administration spokesmen will present their new arguments. A key element of their case is expected to be a pledge to cut federal spending by $4 billion. Mills has contended government spending cuts must accompany any tax increase.

The hearing's outcome could determine whether Congress will adjourn by Dec. 15. If Mills and a majority of his committee remain opposed to the tax bill, Capital Hill sources said, a Dec. 15 adjournment would be possible.

However, if Mills and his majority have a change of heart and send the bill to the House floor, extensive debate on it could push back adjournment to the end of December.

Rep. Frank T. Bow of Ohio, ranking Republican on the House Appropriations Committee, predicted today that "hasty passage of a tax bill is not likely."

Bow said an administration pledge to cut spending may end the tug of war between the President and Congress.

Pottery Museums Asked In Capital Funds Project

A total of $600,000 for pottery museums in Columbiana and Perry counties is included in a $10 million capital improvements program submitted today to Gov. James A. Rhodes by the Ohio Historical Society.

Rhodes pointed out, however, there are no immediate plans for implementing the program.

"No bond issues other than the $700 million issue for highways are contemplated at this time," he said after receiving the society's proposal.

The proposed plan calls for pottery museums in Columbiana and Perry counties at a cost of $150,000 and an historical pottery museum and kiln costing $450,000.

The major item in the new list is for an Ohio Historical Center at Ohio Village at the state fairgrounds. It would be a 20 - building complex on a 15-acre site and would cost $2 million.

Other items on the list include a Great Ohioans Hall of Fame costing $750,000; Exhibits center museum, $500,000; Zane Gray National Road Museum, Muskingum County, $700,000; Ohio River museum, Marietta, $900,000; Ohio glass mu-

U.S. Traffic Deaths Under 1967 Record

By The Associated Press

Deaths on the nation's streets and highways mounted steadily Sunday night during the final hours of the long Thanksgiving day weekend, but the death toll was behind last year's record slaughter.

Weary travelers clogged roads on their homeward journeys Sunday and swelled the death toll to 634.

Last year 748 persons were killed over the Thanksgiving weekend, a record for any holiday period.

The count began at 6 p.m. local time Wednesday and ended at midnight Sunday, a 102-hour period.

In comparison, 567 persons were killed in a similar but nonholiday period from 6 p.m. Wednesday, Nov. 8, to midnight Sunday, Nov. 12, an Associated Press survey showed.

Who Says Dog Is Man's Best Friend?

LINCOLN, Neb. (AP) — Who says a dog is man's best friend?

The Nebraska State Game Commission reports that since the Nebraska hunting season opened a few weeks ago, two hunters have been shot by their dogs.

On one occasion, the commission said, a loaded shotgun placed in the back of a pickup truck was fired by a dog stepping on the trigger. The blast struck a 13-year-old hunter in the elbow.

Another hunter placed his shotgun on the ground and was trying to get his young dog interested in a pheasant. As the dog jumped around he stepped on the trigger, shooting the man in the foot.

Five Weekend Mishaps Reported For Hancock

Two East Liverpool drivers were among those injured in five accidents during the weekend in Hancock County.

Mrs. Patricia O'Hara, 23, of Rankin St., East Liverpool, is in "fair" condition today at City Hospital, where she was admitted after the mishap involving a car driven by her husband, Terry W. O'Hara, 25, Sunday night.

Hancock sheriff's deputies said the auto was southbound on Route 66 about 10:05 when it struck a guardrail, skidded across the highway rammed into a hillside and tree and came to rest on its side. Damage to the auto was estimated at $500.

O'Hara was cited for failure to have his vehicle under control.

Virginia May Douglas, 43, of 1007 Pennsylvania Ave., East Liverpool, is confined to Rochester General Hospital, where she was transferred after emergency treatment at City Hospital following an accident in front of Waterford Park race track Saturday afternoon.

Deputies reported their investigation is continuing, but said the vehicle apparently went off the road and may have overturned in the 1:23 mishap. Mrs. Douglas was alone.

Three drivers were arrested after the other three accidents in which no one was injured.

Three cars were damaged in the parking lot of the Cove on Route 2 about 12:49 a. m. Sunday.

Charged with "being drunk in public" was John Anthony Blasko, 22, of Slovan, Pa., who struck two parked cars as he attempted to leave the lot.

The parked vehicles are owned by Daniel Pattigerser of 945 Warrington Ave., Pittsburgh, and Harriet Criss of 220 Lee Ave., Lisbon. Damage totaled about $375.

Blasko posted $36 bond for an appearance before Squire John D. Herron at New Cumberland. No date was set for the hearing.

Another East Liverpool driver was charged with failure to have her vehicle under control after an accident about 3 p.m.. in Newell Saturday.

Cynthia J. Butler, 18, of Dresden Ave., told deputies she was proceeding north on Harrison St. when she struck an auto driven by Harry McNaught, 54, of Longview Heights, RD 3.

In the other accident at Newell, Joseph M. Calvello, 18, of 62 Elderidge Ave., Williamstown, N.J., was cited for failure to have his vehicle under control after he pulled from a parking space at Washington and 1st Sts. and struck an auto operated by Sharon Morris, 18, of 427 Harrison St.

The mishap occurred about 7 p. m.

'Family Fight Costs 3 $195

A disturbance in an East End tavern that one of the participants described as "'just a family fight" cost two men and a woman a total of $195 in fines and costs today in Municipal Court.

Judge Samuel M. Chertoff meted out the penalties to Dale Rice of 942 Dresden Ave.; his wife, Mary Frances Rice, and his brother, Edgar Rice, also of 942 Dresden Ave. Each was fined $25 and costs on an intoxication charge and $25 and costs more on a charge of malicious destruction of property.

Police said the three were arrested after a fracas at the Silver Star Cafe on Mulberry St. about 1:30 a. m. Saturday. Paul Jones of Mulberry St., the proprietor, was treated at City Hospital for cuts suffered when bits of broken glass struck him as he attempted to halt the battle.

"The Rices had a reunion and it cost them plenty," Judge Chertoff commented after hearing the six charges. Dale Rice, queried by the judge, said: "My wife and I just had a family argument."

Jones filed the charges of malicious destruction of property. He said several glasses were broken and a table was pulled loose from the wall.

By coincidence, Orland Rice of Waterford Park — a brother of Dale and Edgar — was arrested on an intoxication charge Friday in the Diamond. He was fined $25 and costs. Orland Rice told the judge he was not involved in the tavern incident with his brothers.

She was headed north when her 1965 panel truck hit the rear of a 1957 station wagon operated by Homer Flanigan, 27, of Louisville, who had slowed for the construction site.

The side of a car driven by Robert Francis, 21, of 1912 Lisbon St. was damaged when a deer ran from the side of the road into the path of the auto on Route 7 about a mile north of Route 30 Saturday night at 9:30. The deer, which was killed, was turned over to the driver by the game protector.

Sharp Quake Rocks Areas Near Denver

DENVER, Colo. (AP) — A sharp earthquake caused alarm —but apparently little damage when it rumbled 130 miles or more in all directions from its origin near Denver Sunday night.

The first shock, followed by less severe tremors, was felt a Laramie, Wyo., about 130 miles northwest of Denver, at Pueblo, Colo., some 130 miles south of here and at Goodland, Kan., about 175 miles east.

The shock was felt along both sides of the Continental Divide west of Denver.

'Family Fight Costs 3 $195

A disturbance in an East End tavern that one of the participants described as "'just a family fight" cost two men and a woman a total of $195 in fines and costs today in Municipal Court.

Judge Samuel M. Chertoff meted out the penalties to Dale Rice of 942 Dresden Ave.; his wife, Mary Frances Rice, and his brother, Edgar Rice, also of 942 Dresden Ave. Each was fined $25 and costs on an intoxication charge and $25 and costs more on a charge of malicious destruction of property.

Police said the three were arrested after a fracas at the Silver Star Cafe on Mulberry St. about 1:30 a. m. Saturday. Paul Jones of Mulberry St., the proprietor, was treated at City Hospital for cuts suffered when bits of broken glass struck him as he attempted to halt the battle.

"The Rices had a reunion and it cost them plenty," Judge Chertoff commented after hearing the six charges. Dale Rice, queried by the judge, said: "My wife and I just had a family argument."

Jones filed the charges of malicious destruction of property. He said several glasses were broken and a table was pulled loose from the wall.

By coincidence, Orland Rice of Waterford Park — a brother of Dale and Edgar — was arrested on an intoxication charge Friday in the Diamond. He was fined $25 and costs. Orland Rice told the judge he was not involved in the tavern incident with his brothers.

Protecting The U.S. Dollar

The 1967 version of a gold rush is stimulating additional concern over the stability of the dollar.

The rush to buy gold in Western European markets was spurred by devaluation of the British pound.

It is no secret that President Charles de Gaulle of France is the moving force behind the gold buying. The unbending ruler of France has seized the opportunity to mount an offensive against the dollar as part of his campaign to return the international money system to the gold standard.

Confidence in the dollar has to be undermined for France to succeed in knocking the United States and Britain from leadership seats in world finance.

Britain blames France for leaking information that helped push the pound over the devaluation brink.

Now France can concentrate on the United States by leading the charge against American gold reserves. The goal is to deplete the U.S. buillion stock and force an upward revision of the present gold price to devalue the dollar.

The awkward position the United States is in with the balance of payments problem makes the dollar highly vulnerable. The situation could reach the crisis point if all foreign nations began to convert dollar holdings into gold.

The dollar is expected to maintain its present position in world finance through a variety of defensive actions. Officials are keeping an eye on the day-to-day happenings in international money markets to determine what tactics are necessitated.

There already has been an interest rate adjustment. There could be a general tightening of American investment abroad; a slowdown in trade with France; restrictions on foreign travel by Americans; a reduction of staffs of government establishments abroad and further reductions in foreign aid.

Another step that could be taken is repeal of the statutory requirement of a 25 per cent gold reserve against Federal Reserve liabilities. This would free more gold for adjustment of international accounts.

This action has been suggested before and is controversial. America is the only nation in the world that requires its currency to be backed by gold.

Some economists say there is no reason the Federal Reserve System should hold any gold reserve against paper dollars, because these dollars cannot be redeemed in gold by U.S. citizens.

Opponents say such a move would be the same as admitting the dollar was in deep trouble and would precipitate a monetary crisis.

The debate will go on. Measures will be weighed. Some defensive moves will be made.

The United States is committed to keeping the dollar sound. There is no back door available for retreat.

Don't Ever Believe It

Testimony before the President's Advisory Commission on Civil Disorders can tell Americans a great deal about urban riots if they will listen.

New York City Police Commissioner Howard R. Leary has told the commission, for example, that riots are like grass fires, which can be started by a spark when conditions are right.

A policeman fires a gun. There is a street incident. Someone heaves a rock. A scuffle occurs. Excitement grows, fed on the psychopathic desire of some residents in bad neighborhoods to strike back in anger because of endless frustration and boredom.

Rumors start and are magnified in retelling. Human beings start to mill and shout. By this time, the systematic agitators always waiting for these circumstances have arrived on the scene. They keep the excitement going. They provide the means of violence. They feed rumor mills and make sure rocks are thrown where they will do the most damage and firearms will be aimed and fired for the greatest effect.

The temptation is to blame all riots on systematic agitators who show up after the grass fire is under way.

The even greater temptation is to say these people are all conscious and trained agents of an international Communist conspiracy. Some alarmists even are murmuring that they are "agents of Hanoi" and "tools of Mao Tse-tung."

By attributing riots to the agitators who come in late, alarmists shift blame to ouside forces and squirm out of homegrown responsibility.

Ants who show up at picnics do not plan the picnics. They move in after the fact. Don't ever believe it when someone says conspirators cause urban riots. That's an easy way out.

Conspirators make the most of them; no doubt about that. But they don't cause them.

Magic Ingredient

Is it the water? The air? The soil content? Whatever it is in East Palestine, it has put the third girl in four years under the crown of Miss Columbiana County Junior Miss.

Nancy Nesbitt earned the title this year with her talent as a piano player and her striking appearance — which has become a tradition almost with the gals from East Palestine. The five finalists were also from the home of the Bulldogs.

Nancy rates a well-deserved salute from all of Columbiana County and best of luck toward bringing the state title home to the county—and to East Palestine.

Purely Personal Observations

Think of it this way: The true value of things does not change, only the value of the worthless tokens we use to pay for them. A British pound used to be worth about $5; now it's worth $2.40. The $5 the pound used to be worth now brings about $2.40, too. Get the idea?

Ohio Gov. Rhodes has grounds for a suit against Texas oil billionaire Hunt for defamation of character, based on Hunt's disclosure that he likes Rhodes as a potential presidential candidate. Nothing could do more damage than Hunt's enthusiasm for a potential presidential candidate.

It has occurred to me when I am a passenger on an airplane that the contraption might blow up or crash, but not as often as I think about the possibility of an accident in an auto, a train, or a ship. I feel more secure in airplanes than in other forms of transportation.

I have had many occasions to wish I owned a coil of stout rope and suspect not one householder in 100 possesses this essential item.

Our fighting men in Vietnam say in their letters it is too bad people back home don't understand why the United States is in Vietnam. It is similarly to be deplored that our fighting men don't understand why people back home feel this way about what is happening in Vietnam.

Oregon's Mark O. Hatfield is far and away the handsomest of all presidential possibilities. He has only one thing against him. He comes through on television with the impact of a gnat hurled into a custard pie at 10 paces.

It's hard for a young man to know what to do sometimes—resist the draft or take a chance on being tried as a war criminal if his side loses.

It has crossed my mind like a black cat scurrying across a lonesome road that the girl in the red Corvair may never know she has been referred to in this column, which would take half the fun out of this detail on my motorized girl-watching.

Auto Safety For Baboons

By Art Buchwald

WASHINGTON

The National Catholic Society for Animal Welfare has strongly objected to using live baboons in automotive safety tests at the Ford Motor Co. The society claimed the use of baboons was "cruel and mean," but Ford came back and said the tests were far more meaningful than those in which dummies were used.

Art Buchwald

The tests included the use of an air bag. Those baboons which used the air bags on impact of crashes up to 64 miles an hour survived. The baboons which didn't have the air bags for protection were killed.

I am afraid I have to go along with the animal welfare society on this one. Why should animal baboons be the patsy for tests that will save human beings?

Probably Ford first got the idea because there are so many human baboons driving cars these days that they thought they might get as close to the real things as they could. Of course, you could say the same thing for dummies that are driving around.

IT SEEMS TO ME that a compromise should be found that would satisfy both the animal welfare people and the automotive safety people.

The solution is to use real people in the safety tests, at least those that correspond to the physical appearance and mental ability of baboons.

If we know that human beings can take this tremendous punishment, we can apply these findings to baboons, and the baboons won't have to be sacrificed to an industry they couldn't care less about.

The next problem is where to find the human beings for the auto safety experiments, at least ones that look and act like baboons when they're driving a car. The answer is that they're everywhere.

Every American knows at least one, usually the man or woman in front of him when he's driving his own car.

But it would be unfair to enlist this person in the experiment because, while he might look like a baboon to you, you might look like a baboon to somebody else.

THE ONLY FAIR way to select human beings for these auto safety tests is by the point system. Most states now provide that after a certain number of moving offenses the driver loses his license. This has worked great hardship on many people who need their automobiles for their work and personal welfare.

Instead of losing their license, these drivers could be sentenced by the judge to go to Detroit and report for auto safety experiments. If they survived the experiments, they would be permitted to keep their license. For those that didn't survive the tests, nothing would be lost because, on the basis of the way they drove, they wouldn't live much longer anyway.

Most animal baboons I talked to think this idea has merit. The consensus was that they don't mind going up in space, and they're even willing to participate in cancer experiments. But they feel they shouldn't be wasted in auto safety tests, particularly since there are so many human baboons available.

VICTOR RIESEL

Mafia, Target Of New Combo

WASHINGTON — Cracking the Cosa Nostra's quadrangle is the newest stratagem of the federal racket busters. No one in the understaffed, underpaid, overworked Justice Dept.'s Organized Crime and Racketeering Section is saying that crime won't pay if the "quadrangle" is dented or even smashed. But this would be the Mafia's first international setback since Murder was unincorporated and Lucky Luciano dropped dead at an Italian airport.

Victor Riesel

First, it whould be known that the crime-laden quadrangle agrea stretches from Buffalo up through Montreal and Toronto, over to Windsor (Can.)-Detroit, down along Lake Erie to Cleveland and back into Buffalo.

The assault on the quadrangle is headed by no ordinary force — for, it now can be revealed, the Royal Canadian Mounted Police has peeled off some of its crack investigators to work steadily inside the U.S. with Justice Dept. anti-racketeering teams. The first such "team" was concentrated in Buffalo, N.Y., some time last November, according to Justice Dept. insiders.

These sources now say that it is only a "matter of days" before a similar "team" is set up in Detorit to launch a frontal attack on the five-man Mafia Council there. Now it's a matter of budget. But as a result of a confidential Criminal Division memo to President Johnson, the White House is pushing for the money.

It takes months for such teams to pick up steam and informers and really hit the prosecution trail. So it may be a year or two. But other special teams will be operating in Miami, Northern New Jersey, Las Vegas and possibly the West Coast soon enough.

THE "TEAM" MUST BE differentiated from the Racketeering Section's flying squads which this column was the first to report well over a year ago. The flying squads, which the Justice Dept.'s Criminal Division chief Fred Vinson Jr. frequently joins, "scan the entire spectrum of crime in some areas, such as Chicago. Then they set up planning boards. But the 'team' is made up of an Organized Crime Section core adding, wherever we go, all supervisory chiefs, the heads of every conceivable law enforcement agency, all working together for the maximum of criminal intelligence."

The "team concentrates on one problem, or one case, or one investigatory operation "such as in Buffalo." Why Buffalo was my query.

"We chose Buffalo because it was virgin territory for us," one of the nation's highly placed federal crime fighters replied. "And because the Cosa Nostra had an organization there with indentifiable members, but not so many that we would lose ourselves.

"THEIR MEN ALSO WILL BE in the Detroit special team, which we'll get started as soon as we're out of the budget squeeze."

Buffalo also was chosen, said this column's source, because the Maggadino operation, identified so many times in FBI files, and during the Senate crime hearings as a powerful Cosa Nostra force, has influence all through the Ohio Valley which reaches from Pittsburgh to the Mississippi at Cairo, Ill.

Thus the theory is that if the drive goes well in the Buffalo corner of New York, the operation then can tighten the pincer move on the entire Midwest industrial section of the land simply by ripping the Detroit mob wide open. At first the strategy is to limit the operation by squeezing the Maggadino and Joe Bonanno syndicates inside the quadrangle and rocking them all along the big Lake Erie. Thus could later result in a bigger offensive by escalating south to the Ohio River.

Certainly this would take years. But by microscoping Detroit and Cleveland the "team" or strike force concept could expose not only the traditional rackets but industrial terror as well. It can, and will, expose the terror syndicates' invasion of scores of local unions "all along the line" and the movement into legitimate businesses in the nation's most concentrated industrial sector.

DAVID LAWRENCE

U.S. Dollars

Britain's devaluation of the pound sterling furnished a lucky break to President Johnson in two important factors that can improve his fiscal policy.

First, Congress has perceived the necessity for changing its mood about a tax increase and may vote it soon, to take effect in 1968.

Second, the President has had to agree to a sharp cut in the national budget, and the reductions will be better accepted by groups affected than would have been the case a few days ago.

Net result will be a curtailment of the budget for the fiscal year ending next June 30. The deficit, instead of the expected $21.5 billion, will be reduced to $13.7 billion. This will be due to an anticipated $3.8 billion in added revenues from the new taxes, and 4 billion in the cut in expenditures.

WHILE THE $13.7 billion deficit is one of the biggest in history and compares unfavorably with the $9.9 billion deficit in fiscal year 1967, which ended last June 30, and the $2.3 billion deficit for fiscal year 1966, the administration now hopes to be able to promise that the budget deficit will be $4 billion for fiscal year 1969 starting next July 1.

President Johnson will be waging his campaign for re-election during 1968 with the argument that, despite the high cost of the Vietnam War, he will have brought the budget deficit down to an estimated $4 billion for the then current year.

Unquestionably, devaluation of the pound has had repercussions in many parts of the world, particularly in the United States, where Congress as well as the President has seen the danger of letting the deficits rise much farther.

Chairman Wilbur Mills of the House Ways and Means Committee has insisted he would be for the tax increase if the administration would agree to a constructive plan of budget-cutting.

Fear of a loss of confidence in the dollar and further complications on the financial front have prompted both parties in Congress, along with the President, to take a realistic view of what might be the demoralizing effect of a large budget deficit in the current fiscal year.

The United States stands alone in the world behind the dollar. Its balance-of-payments problem is by no means solved. So anything Congress can do to move in the direction of sound fiscal policy tends to be helpful in building up confidence in the dollar.

What is not foreseeable is the impact of the British action on world trade. One solution for the United States may be to establish some kind of freeze on the quantities of foreign goods sold here prior to British devaluation and limiting monthly imports to these quotas. This would enable American companies involved to compete in their own market.

THE POLITICAL effect of these happenings is not easy to discern. The votes of many labor-union members may be alienated unless the administration protects the workers in industries which produce goods that are going to face competition from abroad at bargain prices as a result of devaluation of the pound.

The administration will improve its chances for 1968 if the fiscal situation has been ameliorated. This can be offset by an increase in unemployment as well as by a rise in the cost of living.

There's the possibility, also, that if high interest rates are maintained too long construction and related industries may suffer.

This could have a disastrous effect on the chances of Democrats in 1968.

What is being aimed at now is achievement of a form of stability within the next few months.

Devaluation of the pound may have helped Britain's economic situation, but it has not erased as yet the possibility of a mild recession in this country during 1968 due to high interest rates and increased taxes.

They feed rumor mills and make sure rocks are thrown where they will do the most damage and firearms will be aimed and fired for the greatest effect.

The temptation is to blame all riots on systematic agitators who show up after the grass fire is under way.

The even greater temptation is to say these people are all conscious and trained agents of an international Communist conspiracy. Some alarmists even are murmuring that they are "agents of Hanoi" and "tools of Mao Tse-tung."

By attributing riots to the agitators who come in late, alarmists shift blame to ouside forces and squirm out of homegrown responsibility.

Ants who show up at picnics do not plan the picnics. They move in after the fact. Don't ever believe it when someone says conspirators cause urban riots. That's an easy way out.

Conspirators make the most of them; no doubt about that. But they don't cause them.

Magic Ingredient

Is it the water? The air? The soil content? Whatever it is in East Palestine, it has put the third girl in four years under the crown of Miss Columbiana County Junior Miss.

Nancy Nesbitt earned the title this year with her talent as a piano player and her striking appearance — which has become a tradition almost with the gals from East Palestine. The five finalists were also from the home of the Bulldogs.

Nancy rates a well-deserved salute from all of Columbiana County and best of luck toward bringing the state title home to the county—and to East Palestine.

Purely Personal Observations

Think of it this way: The true value of things does not change, only the value of the worthless tokens we use to pay for them. A British pound used to be worth about $5; now it's worth $2.40. The $5 the pound used to be worth now brings about $2.40, too. Get the idea?

Ohio Gov. Rhodes has grounds for a suit against Texas oil billionaire Hunt for defamation of character, based on Hunt's disclosure that he likes Rhodes as a potential presidential candidate. Nothing could do more damage than Hunt's enthusiasm for a potential presidential candidate.

It has occurred to me when I am a passenger on an airplane that the contraption might blow up or crash, but not as often as I think about the possibility of an accident in an auto, a train, or a ship. I feel more secure in airplanes than in other forms of transportation.

I have had many occasions to wish I owned a coil of stout rope and suspect not one householder in 100 possesses this essential item.

Our fighting men in Vietnam say in their letters it is too bad people back home don't understand why the United States is in Vietnam. It is similarly to be deplored that our fighting men don't understand why people back home feel this way about what is happening in Vietnam.

Oregon's Mark O. Hatfield is far and away the handsomest of all presidential possibilities. He has only one thing against him. He comes through on television with the impact of a gnat hurled into a custard pie at 10 paces.

It's hard for a young man to know what to do sometimes—resist the draft or take a chance on being tried as a war criminal if his side loses.

It has crossed my mind like a black cat scurrying across a lonesome road that the girl in the red Corvair may never know she has been referred to in this column, which would take half the fun out of this detail on my motorized girl-watching.

I spilled my breakfast coffee when I read in Time magazine that chromosone tests revealed a Polish woman athlete was not all female, though so certified by a panel of woman doctors. Gosh, how can a fella be sure? Does he have to carry a microscope

'Now Is The Time For All Good Men To Come To The Aid Of Their Country!'

Auto Safety For Baboons

By Art Buchwald

WASHINGTON

The National Catholic Society for Animal Welfare has strongly objected to using live baboons in automotive safety tests at the Ford Motor Co. The society claimed the use of baboons was "cruel and mean," but Ford came back and said the tests were far more meaningful than those in which dummies were used.

Art Buchwald

The tests included the use of an air bag. Those baboons which used the air bags on impact of crashes up to 64 miles an hour survived. The baboons which didn't have the air bags for protection were killed.

I am afraid I have to go along with the animal welfare society on this one. Why should animal baboons be the patsy for tests that will save human beings?

Probably Ford first got the idea because there are so many human baboons driving cars these days that they thought they might get as close to the real things as they could. Of course, you could say the same thing for dummies that are driving around.

IT SEEMS TO ME that a compromise should be found that would satisfy both the animal welfare people and the automotive safety people.

The solution is to use real people in the safety tests, at least those that correspond to the physical appearance and mental ability of baboons.

If we know that human beings can take this tremendous punishment, we can apply these findings to baboons, and the baboons won't have to be sacrificed to an industry they couldn't care less about.

The next problem is where to find the human beings for the auto safety experiments, at least ones that look and act like baboons when they're driving a car. The answer is that they're everywhere.

Every American knows at least one, usually the man or woman in front of him when he's driving his own car.

But it would be unfair to enlist this person in the experiment because, while he might look like a baboon to you, you might look like a baboon to somebody else.

THE ONLY FAIR way to select human beings for these auto safety tests is by the point system. Most states now provide that after a certain number of moving offenses the driver loses his license. This has worked great hardship on many people who need their automobiles for their work and personal welfare.

Instead of losing their license, these drivers could be sentenced by the judge to go to Detroit and report for auto safety experiments. If they survived the experiments, they would be permitted to keep their license. For those that didn't survive the tests, nothing would be lost because, on the basis of the way they drove, they wouldn't live much longer anyway.

Most animal baboons I talked to think this idea has merit. The consensus was that they don't mind going up in space, and they're even willing to participate in cancer experiments. But they feel they shouldn't be wasted in auto safety tests, particularly since there are so many human baboons available.

VICTOR RIESEL

Mafia, Target Of New Combo

WASHINGTON — Cracking the Cosa Nostra's quadrangle is the newest stratagem of the federal racket busters. No one in the understaffed, underpaid, overworked Justice Dept.'s Organized Crime and Racketeering Section is saying that crime won't pay if the "quadrangle" is dented or even smashed. But this would be the Mafia's first international setback since Murder was unincorporated and Lucky Luciano dropped dead at an Italian airport.

Victor Riesel

First, it whould be known that the crime-laden quadrangle agrea stretches from Buffalo up through Montreal and Toronto, over to Windsor (Can.)-Detroit, down along Lake Erie to Cleveland and back into Buffalo.

The assault on the quadrangle is headed by no ordinary force — for, it now can be revealed, the Royal Canadian Mounted Police has peeled off some of its crack investigators to work steadily inside the U.S. with Justice Dept. anti-racketeering teams. The first such "team" was concentrated in Buffalo, N.Y., some time last November, according to Justice Dept. insiders.

These sources now say that it is only a "matter of days" before a similar "team" is set up in Detorit to launch a frontal attack on the five-man Mafia Council there. Now it's a matter of budget. But as a result of a confidential Criminal Division memo to President Johnson, the White House is pushing for the money.

It takes months for such teams to pick up steam and informers and really hit the prosecution trail. So it may be a year or two. But other special teams will be operating in Miami, Northern New Jersey, Las Vegas and possibly the West Coast soon enough.

THE "TEAM" MUST BE differentiated from the Racketeering Section's flying squads which this column was the first to report well over a year ago. The flying squads, which the Justice Dept.'s Criminal Division chief Fred Vinson Jr. frequently joins, "scan the entire spectrum of crime in some areas, such as Chicago. Then they set up planning boards. But the 'team' is made up of an Organized Crime Section core adding, wherever we go, all supervisory chiefs, the heads of every conceivable law enforcement agency, all working together for the maximum of criminal intelligence."

The "team concentrates on one problem, or one case, or one investigatory operation "such as in Buffalo." Why Buffalo was my query.

"We chose Buffalo because it was virgin territory for us," one of the nation's highly placed federal crime fighters replied. "And because the Cosa Nostra had an organization there with indentifiable members, but not so many that we would lose ourselves.

"THEIR MEN ALSO WILL BE in the Detroit special team, which we'll get started as soon as we're out of the budget squeeze."

Buffalo also was chosen, said this column's source, because the Maggadino operation, identified so many times in FBI files, and during the Senate crime hearings as a powerful Cosa Nostra force, has influence all through the Ohio Valley which reaches from Pittsburgh to the Mississippi at Cairo, Ill.

Thus the theory is that if the drive goes well in the Buffalo corner of New York, the operation then can tighten the pincer move on the entire Midwest industrial section of the land simply by ripping the Detroit mob wide open. At first the strategy is to limit the operation by squeezing the Maggadino and Joe Bonanno syndicates inside the quadrangle and rocking them all along the big Lake Erie. Thus could later result in a bigger offensive by escalating south to the Ohio River.

Certainly this would take years. But by microscoping Detroit and Cleveland the "team" or strike force concept could expose not only the traditional rackets but industrial terror as well. It can, and will, expose the terror syndicates' invasion of scores of local unions "all along the line" and the movement into legitimate businesses in the nation's most concentrated industrial sector.

DAVID LAWRENCE

U.S. Dollars

Britain's devaluation of the pound sterling furnished a lucky break to President Johnson in two important factors that can improve his fiscal policy.

First, Congress has perceived the necessity for changing its mood about a tax increase and may vote it soon, to take effect in 1968.

Second, the President has had to agree to a sharp cut in the national budget, and the reductions will be better accepted by groups affected than would have been the case a few days ago.

Net result will be a curtailment of the budget for the fiscal year ending next June 30. The deficit, instead of the expected $21.5 billion, will be reduced to $13.7 billion. This will be due to an anticipated $3.8 billion in added revenues from the new taxes, and 4 billion in the cut in expenditures.

WHILE THE $13.7 billion deficit is one of the biggest in history and compares unfavorably with the $9.9 billion deficit in fiscal year 1967, which ended last June 30, and the $2.3 billion deficit for fiscal year 1966, the administration now hopes to be able to promise that the budget deficit will be $4 billion for fiscal year 1969 starting next July 1.

President Johnson will be waging his campaign for re-election during 1968 with the argument that, despite the high cost of the Vietnam War, he will have brought the budget deficit down to an estimated $4 billion for the then current year.

Unquestionably, devaluation of the pound has had repercussions in many parts of the world, particularly in the United States, where Congress as well as the President has seen the danger of letting the deficits rise much farther.

Chairman Wilbur Mills of the House Ways and Means Committee has insisted he would be for the tax increase if the administration would agree to a constructive plan of budget-cutting.

Fear of a loss of confidence in the dollar and further complications on the financial front have prompted both parties in Congress, along with the President, to take a realistic view of what might be the demoralizing effect of a large budget deficit in the current fiscal year.

The United States stands alone in the world behind the dollar. Its balance-of-payments problem is by no means solved. So anything Congress can do to move in the direction of sound fiscal policy tends to be helpful in building up confidence in the dollar.

What is not foreseeable is the impact of the British action on world trade. One solution for the United States may be to establish some kind of freeze on the quantities of foreign goods sold here prior to British devaluation and limiting monthly imports to these quotas. This would enable American companies involved to compete in their own market.

THE POLITICAL effect of these happenings is not easy to discern. The votes of many labor-union members may be alienated unless the administration protects the workers in industries which produce goods that are going to face competition from abroad at bargain prices as a result of devaluation of the pound.

The administration will improve its chances for 1968 if the fiscal situation has been ameliorated. This can be offset by an increase in unemployment as well as by a rise in the cost of living.

There's the possibility, also, that if high interest rates are maintained too long construction and related industries may suffer.

This could have a disastrous effect on the chances of Democrats in 1968.

What is being aimed at now is achievement of a form of stability within the next few months.

Devaluation of the pound may have helped Britain's economic situation, but it has not erased as yet the possibility of a mild recession in this country during 1968 due to high interest rates and increased taxes.

In Line With McNamara Directive

Army Trims War Orders To Avoid Waste In Viet

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Army is slashing war production orders involving millions of dollars and is shuffling around other millions in on-hand goods in a broad effort to avoid wasteful surpluses in Vietnam, Pentagon sources report.

The move is in line with Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara's new directive urging efforts to "avoid the inefficiencies and waste" of past wars.

McNamara told the services and defense agencies Friday the Korean war resulted in $12 billion in supply excesses, much of which had little salvage value because of deterioration and obsolescence.

"I am determined that this will not happen in Vietnam," McNamara said.

A high-level defense team returned from an inspection tour of the war zone a few days ago and told McNamara that for the first time since the huge Vietnam buildup began in mid-1965, accurate statistics on inventories are being compiled, partly with the aid of computers.

The team, including representatives from the Pentagon's Installations and Logistics Office, told McNamara the straightening of records on 300,000 items had slowed inventory work.

Because the Pentagon literally threw open the production faucet at the start of the buildup, stocks of some of the 300,000 items soared beyond needs and are being trimmed.

The Army ammunition inventory, for example, is being reduced by $50 million, sources said. Earlier this year McNamara ordered bomb production reduced by several thousand tons a month.

Since January more than $100 million in requisitions for other war supplies have been canceled, sources said, and backed-up requisitions older than 180 days are being torn up.

The Army also has redistributed an estimated $76 million in goods throughout Vietnam to even out inventories at various depots. A total of $40 million more has been earmarked for other areas.

The Pentagon plans to use ships returning from Vietnam to haul excess supplies to Okinawa and other Pacific areas.

The Army's Logistics Command in Vietnam has reported its redistribution program may save an estimated $230 million by next July.

Gen. William C. Westmoreland, U.S. Commander in Vietnam, said last week in a Washington speech he is intensifying "logistical management" to deal with any surpluses.

"Our rapid buildup 10,000 miles away in an undeveloped nation lacking in logistical support facilities has created many problems," Westmoreland said. "Some units brought to Vietnam equipment that has not been needed. Some supplies were shipped automatically based on experience in other wars and have not been consumed in the quantities expected."

McNamara praised Westmoreland's action and directed Army Secretary Stanley R. Resor and Adm. U.S. Grant Sharp, Pacific commander-in-chief, to set up agencies responsible for inventorying and redistribution work.

McNamara said he will expect a monthly report on supply actions beginning early next year.

Auto Union, Chrysler Set 3-Year Pact

By KIT KINCADE
Associated Press Writer

DETROIT (AP) — The United Auto Workers today wrapped up a three-year contract covering 8,000 salaried workers at Chrysler Corp. and then moved on to a showdown battle with General Motors, the giant of the auto industry.

Chrysler and the union announced agreement on a new three-year pact at about 3 a.m., five hours before most of the firm's white collar workers were to report for duty.

The company said the contract called for salary increases ranging from $35 to $87 a month, all of which would be retroactive to Oct. 16, 1967. The 18 salary classes now range from $82.20 to $262 a week.

The pay hikes would follow the patterns laid down by agreements covering UAW hourly rated workers at Ford and Chrysler.

The key issue at Chrysler, the only one of the Big Three auto firms where white collar workers are represented, was translating hourly wage scales into salaries.

Hourly-rated workers at Ford and Chrysler won roughly $1 an hour more above the old Big Three average of $4.70 an hour in wages and fringe benefits.

These agreements include a 30-cent general wage increase during the first year for skilled workers above the 20-cent-an-hour wage increase given to all employes.

Union and company bargainers at Chrysler were stymied as to how to apply the special skilled trades increase to salaried workers.

The union has two contracts covering Chrysler's salaried workers, one for the 4,320 office and clerical workers and another for the 3,680 engineering and technical workers.

First Since Nov. 15 Riot

Classes At Central State Resume Without Incident

WILBERFORCE, Ohio (AP) —Classes were resumed without incident today at Central State University, the first ones held since the school closed Nov. 15 in the wake of a student riot that brought 700 National Guardsmen to the campus.

President Harry E. Groves, who announced resignation plans Saturday, was to speak to students in a special convocation aimed at returning the school to normal operation.

Among students who returned to campus over the weekend were some 40 members of "Unity for Unity," a student Black Power group allegedly involved in the Nov. 13 riot.

Members of the group were ordered expelled after the disturbance, but trustees allowed them to be readmitted on probation on the basis of Atty. Gen. William B. Saxbe's ruling that students cannot be expelled from state-supported schools without a formal hearing.

Other students Sunday began circulating a petition urging Groves to stay. Groves, whose resignation has not yet been considered by trustees, blamed "trivia" at the school for his decision to leave.

In announcing his resignation, he said he found many students, parents and alumni ignoring the real issues in what he called a time of genuine crisis at the predominantly Negro, 2,700-student school.

John H. Bustamante, chairman of Central State trustees, said Sunday no action had been taken on Groves' resignation and no time had been set for such consideration.

Bustamante denied there was a move to bring back Central State's founder and first president, Dr. Charles H. Wesley, as had been advocated by trustee Dr. Murrill M. Szucs of Youngstown.

Bustamante, who canceled an appearance at today's convocation, said the board had made no effort to rehire Wesley. Wesley, himself, said he was under contract to work in Washington, D. C., and had kept his "hands and mind out of Central State."

Rhodes Says Stokes Parley Put State In Urban Issues

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Gov. James A. Rhodes said his meeting Saturday with Cleveland's Democratic Mayor Carl B. Stokes has for the first time involved the state directly in urban problems of Ohio cities.

Up to now the state government "has been isolated from the cities. We have the same problems and we are going to solve them together," the Republican governor said.

At a news conference, Rhodes and Stokes said they were optimistic because of the rapport they said was established between them.

Stokes said his administration would study and give careful consideration to several reports given him by the state concerning proposals on how to solve urban problems such as unemployment and housing.

The mayor of Ohio's largest city indicated Saturday's meeting, in the governor's office here, was the first of many that will be held between the two men in a joint attempt to solve Cleveland's problems.

One of the major decisions to come out of the meeting was an agreement between Stokes and Rhodes to appeal jointly to the federal administration for help in housing and urban renewal.

"We will try to get them to cut this red tape," Stokes said.

Rhodes said, "Along with full employment, low and medium-cost housing is Cleveland's greatest need.

Stokes joined with the governor in backing a proposed state bond issue, which may be presented to the voters in the May primary.

It would raise some $700 million in highway construction funds.

Henry VIII was the first English ruler to claim the title "His Majesty," but the word majesty was not generally used until the time of the Stuart kings. Before that time, English kings were spoken of as "His Grace" of "His Highness."

In Line With McNamara Directive

Army Trims War Orders To Avoid Waste In Viet

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Army is slashing war production orders involving millions of dollars and is shuffling around other millions in on-hand goods in a broad effort to avoid wasteful surpluses in Vietnam, Pentagon sources report.

The move is in line with Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara's new directive urging efforts to "avoid the inefficiencies and waste" of past wars.

McNamara told the services and defense agencies Friday the Korean war resulted in $12 billion in supply excesses, much of which had little salvage value because of deterioration and obsolescence.

"I am determined that this will not happen in Vietnam," McNamara said.

A high-level defense team returned from an inspection tour of the war zone a few days ago and told McNamara that for the first time since the huge Vietnam buildup began in mid-1965, accurate statistics on inventories are being compiled, partly with the aid of computers.

The team, including representatives from the Pentagon's Installations and Logistics Office, told McNamara the straightening of records on 300,000 items had slowed inventory work.

Because the Pentagon literally threw open the production faucet at the start of the buildup, stocks of some of the 300,000 items soared beyond needs and are being trimmed.

The Army ammunition inventory, for example, is being reduced by $50 million, sources said. Earlier this year McNamara ordered bomb production reduced by several thousand tons a month.

Since January more than $100 million in requisitions for other war supplies have been canceled, sources said, and backed-up requisitions older than 180 days are being torn up.

The Army also has redistributed an estimated $76 million in goods throughout Vietnam to even out inventories at various depots. A total of $40 million more has been earmarked for other areas.

The Pentagon plans to use ships returning from Vietnam to haul excess supplies to Okinawa and other Pacific areas.

The Army's Logistics Command in Vietnam has reported its redistribution program may save an estimated $230 million by next July.

Gen. William C. Westmoreland, U.S. Commander in Vietnam, said last week in a Washington speech he is intensifying "logistical management" to deal with any surpluses.

"Our rapid buildup 10,000 miles away in an undeveloped nation lacking in logistical support facilities has created many problems," Westmoreland said. "Some units brought to Vietnam equipment that has not been needed. Some supplies were shipped automatically based on experience in other wars and have not been consumed in the quantities expected."

McNamara praised Westmoreland's action and directed Army Secretary Stanley R. Resor and Adm. U.S. Grant Sharp, Pacific commander-in-chief, to set up agencies responsible for inventorying and redistribution work.

McNamara said he will expect a monthly report on supply actions beginning early next year.

Auto Union, Chrysler Set 3-Year Pact

By KIT KINCADE
Associated Press Writer

DETROIT (AP) — The United Auto Workers today wrapped up a three-year contract covering 8,000 salaried workers at Chrysler Corp. and then moved on to a showdown battle with General Motors, the giant of the auto industry.

Chrysler and the union announced agreement on a new three-year pact at about 3 a.m., five hours before most of the firm's white collar workers were to report for duty.

The company said the contract called for salary increases ranging from $35 to $87 a month, all of which would be retroactive to Oct. 16, 1967. The 18 salary classes now range from $82.20 to $262 a week.

The pay hikes would follow the patterns laid down by agreements covering UAW hourly rated workers at Ford and Chrysler.

The key issue at Chrysler, the only one of the Big Three auto firms where white collar workers are represented, was translating hourly wage scales into salaries.

Hourly-rated workers at Ford and Chrysler won roughly $1 an hour more above the old Big Three average of $4.70 an hour in wages and fringe benefits.

These agreements include a 30-cent general wage increase during the first year for skilled workers above the 20-cent-an-hour wage increase given to all employes.

Union and company bargainers at Chrysler were stymied as to how to apply the special skilled trades increase to salaried workers.

The union has two contracts covering Chrysler's salaried workers, one for the 4,320 office and clerical workers and another for the 3,680 engineering and technical workers.

First Since Nov. 15 Riot

Classes At Central State Resume Without Incident

WILBERFORCE, Ohio (AP) —Classes were resumed without incident today at Central State University, the first ones held since the school closed Nov. 15 in the wake of a student riot that brought 700 National Guardsmen to the campus.

President Harry E. Groves, who announced resignation plans Saturday, was to speak to students in a special convocation aimed at returning the school to normal operation.

Among students who returned to campus over the weekend were some 40 members of "Unity for Unity," a student Black Power group allegedly involved in the Nov. 13 riot.

Members of the group were ordered expelled after the disturbance, but trustees allowed them to be readmitted on probation on the basis of Atty. Gen. William B. Saxbe's ruling that students cannot be expelled from state-supported schools without a formal hearing.

Other students Sunday began circulating a petition urging Groves to stay. Groves, whose resignation has not yet been considered by trustees, blamed "trivia" at the school for his decision to leave.

In announcing his resignation, he said he found many students, parents and alumni ignoring the real issues in what he called a time of genuine crisis at the predominantly Negro, 2,700-student school.

John H. Bustamante, chairman of Central State trustees, said Sunday no action had been taken on Groves' resignation and no time had been set for such consideration.

Bustamante denied there was a move to bring back Central State's founder and first president, Dr. Charles H. Wesley, as had been advocated by trustee Dr. Murrill M. Szucs of Youngstown.

Bustamante, who canceled an appearance at today's convocation, said the board had made no effort to rehire Wesley. Wesley, himself, said he was under contract to work in Washington, D. C., and had kept his "hands and mind out of Central State."

Rhodes Says Stokes Parley Put State In Urban Issues

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Gov. James A. Rhodes said his meeting Saturday with Cleveland's Democratic Mayor Carl B. Stokes has for the first time involved the state directly in urban problems of Ohio cities.

Up to now the state government "has been isolated from the cities. We have the same problems and we are going to solve them together," the Republican governor said.

At a news conference, Rhodes and Stokes said they were optimistic because of the rapport they said was established between them.

Stokes said his administration would study and give careful consideration to several reports given him by the state concerning proposals on how to solve urban problems such as unemployment and housing.

The mayor of Ohio's largest city indicated Saturday's meeting, in the governor's office here, was the first of many that will be held between the two men in a joint attempt to solve Cleveland's problems.

One of the major decisions to come out of the meeting was an agreement between Stokes and Rhodes to appeal jointly to the federal administration for help in housing and urban renewal.

"We will try to get them to cut this red tape," Stokes said.

Rhodes said, "Along with full employment, low and medium-cost housing is Cleveland's greatest need.

Stokes joined with the governor in backing a proposed state bond issue, which may be presented to the voters in the May primary.

It would raise some $700 million in highway construction funds.

Henry VIII was the first English ruler to claim the title "His Majesty," but the word majesty was not generally used until the time of the Stuart kings. Before that time, English kings were spoken of as "His Grace" or "His Highness."

The second-story room occupied by the three men was pointed out to Mrus by a witness to the break-in. Ottney said, and Mrus knocked and asked them to come out. When they refused, Mrus returned to his car and radioed for help.

"Then they came out shooting," Ottney reported. He said they had two semi-automatic rifles and a pistol, and that two more pistols "and enough ammunition to hold off an army" were later found in their room.

Mrus was hit once in the leg, "but he pinned them down until more officers arrived," said the chief. "Anyone who can take a shot in the leg and still keep firing and talking on the radio is an extremely good officer."

Mrus, 24, had been on the police force just six months.

Ottney said Louri was in an adjoining room to the three men and that they broke a door between the rooms to get him. He was taken outside, onto the motel balcony, where he broke away.

About 40 policemen from several nearby communities and the Trumbull County sheriff's office soon arrived at the motel.

The gun battle, which ended about 4:45 a.m., lasted only about 15 minutes after help arrived, Ottney said.

A.—Try fastening the paper pattern to the material with cellophane tape, instead of with pins. The pattern lies flatter, and you can cut right through the tape.

His cornpicker is out in the field where he has 27 acres still to harvest, but no place to put it. The trailer loaded with corn in the barn was picked last evening.

automobiles and debris of all kinds.

Many people drowned. Others were crushed by collapsing walls. Some were electrocuted by broken power lines. There were many automobile accidents when the rain was the heaviest, between 6 p.m. and midnight Saturday. A great number were buried under mud slides.

Water rose 8 to 10 feet in some areas. Hundreds of cars were abandoned on the streets of Lisbon and on country roads. Many motorists took refuge on top of their cars or in nearby buildings. Some were hoisted up into second-floor windows.

Power Disrupted As Rig Hits Pole

A tractor - trailer rig operated by Eddie Wright of Pittsburgh sheared a utility pole, disrupting power for several hours in the western section of Vanport late Sunday night.

Police said the westbound truck went out of control on a bend, swerved into the east lane, rammed the pole and then jumped over some guardrails, going 60 feet down an embankment.

A load of steel pipe was strewn on the road. Wright suffered a possible back injury.

To use slices of leftover roast beef, spread them with prepared mustard and coat with fine dry bread crumbs. Fry the breaded slices in hot butter, browning on both sides. Serve with horseradish.

Motorcycle Clubs Raided

3 Arrested For Nailing Girl's Hands To Tree

WEST PALM BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Angered over the nailing to a tree of a girl member of a motorcycle club, Sheriff William Heidtman took two detectives and raided motorcycle clubs in Chicago, Indiana and Detroit until he found his quarry.

Heidtman arrived at West Palm Beach Airport about 3 a.m. Sunday with his three handcuffed prisoners.

Florida Gov. Claude Kirk was at the airport to meet them.

"You left that girl hanging to the tree and I want to make an example of this thing," said the governor, natty in a pin-stripe suit as he talked with the grimy-clothed prisoners.

"Crazy John, Squirrel and Mangy," Kirk said, repeating the men's nicknames. "This bunch of bums has got the word they're not welcome in Florida. I hope young thrill-seeking girls who go with them know now they can get their fingers burned—in this case, their hands nailed."

Booked on charges of aggravated assault and conspiracy were Donald "Mangy" Graves, 18, of Detroit, Joe "Super Squirrel" Sorsby Jr., 19, of Houston, and John "Crazy John" Wables, 24, of Warren, Mich.

Heidtman and his men, reinforced by squads of Detroit police, arrested them in a Detroit motorcycle club Friday night after a 1,600 mile, three-day hunt.

Along with two men arrested Nov. 14, they are charged with driving four-inch spikes through the hands of 18-year-old Christine Deese Nov. 10 as punishment because she held out $10 from a club member.

Heidtman a sheriff of Palm Beach County, said Christine's outstretched arms were nailed by the hands to a thick limb of an oak tree, with her toes just touching the ground, for about 15 minutes while club members sat around her.

"You could call it a crucifixion," he said.

After arresting Norman "Spider" Risinger, 25, of Tampa, Fla., and Frank "Fat Frank" Link, 25, of Cypress, Calif., Nov. 14, Heidtman asked Kirk for permission to chase the other three for whom he held warrants made out only to their nicknames.

How Can I?

Q. — What is the best way to iron pleated skirts?

A. — First press the hem on the wrong side, then on the right side. Place on the ironing board and pin the pleats, at intervals of three or four inches, to the board pad. Be sure not to catch the fabric where the pins will show. Iron from the top to the bottom of the skirt, removing all pins as you go — not ironing over them.

Woman Cited By Officer In Auto's Crash

A 52-year-old Midland woman was charged with driving while under the influence of alcohol after her auto veered off the Pennsylvania Ave. "Hill Rd." Saturday afternoon and rammed into guardrails, police reported.

Mrs. Laura R. Hanna of 648 Beaver Ave., Midland, suffered a cut over the right eye in the collision, timed at 3:18. Officers said she was unable to explain how the crash occurred.

The westbound 1964 model car veered left of center, then struck a guardrail post. Both front fenders were smashed in and the window was broken out of the left door.

A passerby stopped at police headquarters to report the collision. Patrolman H. Clyde Dillon, who responded, said he found the wrecked car and Mrs. Hanna standing outside bleeding from the eye injury. She was taken to City Hospital by ambulance for treatment.

A 40 - year - old East Liverpool woman suffered a bloody nose when her car crashed into a utility pole at Laura Ave. and Bank St. Sunday at 1:15 p. m., police reported.

Mrs. Patricia A. Millslagle Lewis of 1022 Ephriam St. told officers she had not been feeling well for several days and "blacked out" as she drove north on Laura Ave. She did not remember the car striking the pole, officers said.

A witness told police he was driving behind Mrs. Lewis and that her car was not moving rapidly. When she reached the top of the grade, she did not make the turn and the car hit the pole, officers said. The entire front of the car was damaged but there was no visible damage to the pole.

Two cars were damaged in a mishap Saturday at 8:42 p. m. on Jefferson St. at W. 3rd St.

A backing 1966 four - door sedan driven by Patricia L. Neal, 17, of 612 Monroe St. hit the front of a halted 1960 four - door sedan operated by Kenneth James Leonard, 22, of Salineville RD 1, officers said. The young woman told police she had pulled partially into the intersection when the traffic light changed to red. In backing to clear the intersection, her car bumped the Leonard auto, she said.

Parathion Baked Into Bread Kills 76 In Colombia

BOGOTA, Colombia (AP) — The only son of a baker, who unwittingly baked deadly parathion insecticide into loaves of bread was one of 146 persons still in critical condition in Chiquinquira today. Sixty-six children and 10 adults died after eating the bread.

The dead were buried in a mass funeral Sunday.

Those hospitalized were being treated with antitoxins flown from other parts of Colombia, Venezuela, Panama and the United States. Ayerst Laboratories Inc. of Little Falls, N.J., supplied 456 grams of protopan chloride, enough to treat 400 persons.

"God can punish me if I was responsible for this tragedy in any way," said the baker, Aurelio Fajardo. He and the driver of the truck that delivered the flour mixed with parathion insecticide were in custody but were expected to be released.

Thirty containers of parathion, used to kill field pests, were loaded on the truck in Bogota along with flour for Fajardo. Three containers broke on a sharp turn and the poison liquid spilled onto 10 bags of flour. The truckdriver said he did not know the liquid was poison.

Woman Cited By Officer In Auto's Crash

A 52-year-old Midland woman was charged with driving while under the influence of alcohol after her auto veered off the Pennsylvania Ave. "Hill Rd." Saturday afternoon and rammed into guardrails, police reported.

Mrs. Laura R. Hanna of 648 Beaver Ave., Midland, suffered a cut over the right eye in the collision, timed at 3:18. Officers said she was unable to explain how the crash occurred.

The westbound 1964 model car veered left of center, then struck a guardrail post. Both front fenders were smashed in and the window was broken out of the left door.

A passerby stopped at police headquarters to report the collision. Patrolman H. Clyde Dillon, who responded, said he found the wrecked car and Mrs. Hanna standing outside bleeding from the eye injury. She was taken to City Hospital by ambulance for treatment.

A 40 - year - old East Liverpool woman suffered a bloody nose when her car crashed into a utility pole at Laura Ave. and Bank St. Sunday at 1:15 p. m., police reported.

Mrs. Patricia A. Millslagle Lewis of 1022 Ephriam St. told officers she had not been feeling well for several days and "blacked out" as she drove north on Laura Ave. She did not remember the car striking the pole, officers said.

A witness told police he was driving behind Mrs. Lewis and that her car was not moving rapidly. When she reached the top of the grade, she did not make the turn and the car hit the pole, officers said. The entire front of the car was damaged but there was no visible damage to the pole.

Two cars were damaged in a mishap Saturday at 8:42 p. m. on Jefferson St. at W. 3rd St.

A backing 1966 four - door sedan driven by Patricia L. Neal, 17, of 612 Monroe St. hit the front of a halted 1960 four - door sedan operated by Kenneth James Leonard, 22, of Salineville RD 1, officers said. The young woman told police she had pulled partially into the intersection when the traffic light changed to red. In backing to clear the intersection, her car bumped the Leonard auto, she said.

Parathion Baked Into Bread Kills 76 In Colombia

BOGOTA, Colombia (AP) — The only son of a baker, who unwittingly baked deadly parathion insecticide into loaves of bread was one of 146 persons still in critical condition in Chiquinquira today. Sixty-six children and 10 adults died after eating the bread.

The dead were buried in a mass funeral Sunday.

Those hospitalized were being treated with antitoxins flown from other parts of Colombia, Venezuela, Panama and the United States. Ayerst Laboratories Inc. of Little Falls, N.J., supplied 456 grams of protopan chloride, enough to treat 400 persons.

"God can punish me if I was responsible for this tragedy in any way," said the baker, Aurelio Fajardo. He and the driver of the truck that delivered the flour mixed with parathion insecticide were in custody but were expected to be released.

Thirty containers of parathion, used to kill field pests, were loaded on the truck in Bogota along with flour for Fajardo. Three containers broke on a sharp turn and the poison liquid spilled onto 10 bags of flour. The truckdriver said he did not know the liquid was poison.

Thief Obtains $89 In 4th St. Market Entry

A thief escaped with $89.60 from two cash registers after breaking into Rayl's Market at W. 4th and Jefferson Sts. early Sunday, police reported.

The entry was discovered at 4:45 a. m. yesterday by Patrolman Jack Strobel. He said the intruder broke a pane of glass in a door on the W. 4th St. side of the building, then reached through the opening to manipulate the lock.

Fred Rayl, the owner, said the thief removed approximately $45 from one register and $44.60 from another. A gum vending machine also was taken. Officers said the store was entered sometime after midnight Saturday.

Meanwhile, theft of a hand microphone from the New Hope Baptist Church was reported to police Saturday. The building apparently was entered Friday night or Saturday morning. The theft was discovered by Mack Jenrett, a trustee.

Police said an unsuccessful attempt also was made to force two doors leading into the pastor's study. Pry marks were found on the doors, but they had not been forced, officers said.

One vandalism case was reported over the weekend. Paul Calhoun Jr. of Lakeview Circle told officers he was driving north on Lisbon St. about a block north of the Pleasant Heights Fire station Sunday at 6:15 p.m. when someone hurled two small objects which damaged the windshield of his 1967 model auto.

Prosecutor Due Report On Probe In Fume Deaths

AKRON, Ohio (AP)—Summit County Prosecutor James Barbuto receives reports today on an investigation in the deaths of three persons who were killed by carbon monoxide fumes at the Yankee Clipper Inn at Boston Heights.

Fumes from a faulty swimming pool heater apparently got into the ventilating ducts at the motel Nov. 19. Three persons died and more than 60 were sent to the hospital.

Summit County building inspector Anthony Horack, the sheriff and the coroner were among those to make reports today at a meeting in the prosecutor's office. Boston Heights authorities also were to submit a report.

Sheriff's Capt. Gus Trejbal said a smoke bomb set off near the swimming pool heater last Friday backed up the theory that the heater was the source of the deadly fumes. Smoke entered the ventilating system and was carried to some of the motel rooms.

Tensions In Malaysia Ease When General Strike Fails

KUALA LUMPUR, Malaysia (AP) — Racial tensions eased in Malaysia's two biggest cities today as a call for a general strike in Kuala Lumpur failed and no more serious incidents were reported in Penang.

After three days of clashes between Malays and Chinese in which officials said nine persons were killed and nearly 200 wounded in Penang and neighboring Butterworth, both cities on the northwest coast were reported quiet.

A round-the-clock curfew in Penang and Butterworth remained in force but was lifted for several hours this morning so shops and offices could take care of urgent business.

Penang was quiet Sunday, but in Butterworth police said three homes and a factory were burned, two persons were stabbed and there was some looting.

The violence stemmed from demonstrations called last Friday by the leftist Labor party to protest the government's devaluation of that part of its currency which is backed by sterling. The protests soon turned into racial battles between Chinese and Malays, the country's two largest population groups.

Police used tear gas Sunday to break up demonstrations against devaluation in Kuala Lumpur, the capital midway down the Malayan Peninsula, and in Johore, on the southern tip of the mainland opposite Singapore.

The Labor party called a general strike, or hartal, for Kuala Lumpur today, but businessmen and traders opened offices and shops as usual. Hundreds of riot police and troops were stationed at intersections and through the business and market sections with rifles and tear gas. But when it became clear there would be no strike, many of the security forces were withdrawn.

The U.S. Embassy canceled all visits by U.S. servicemen in Vietnam to Penang. About 160 soldiers have been flown there every five days for recreation leave.

About 200 U.S. soldiers visit Kuala Lumpur every week, but there was no indication of any interference with this.

The largest underground factory every built was the Mittelwerk Factory, near Nordhausen in Germany, during World War II. Built with concentration camp labor, it had a floor area of 1,270,000 square feet and produced some 900 V-2 rockets per month.

Hints from Heloise

— By Heloise Cruse —

DEAR HELOISE: I have been sewing for years and years and have many little shortcuts I use. Recently I hit upon something I just have to share with you.

For all this time I have made skirt bands just as the pattern called for and ended up with five thicknesses of material right at my waist—where I need more thickness like I need a hole in my head!

I was making a skirt a few weeks ago and all of a sudden it dawned on me. Why not eliminate the two thicknesses of the turn under on the wrong side of the waist band by sewing a strip of hem binding on it and grimming the extra way?

I tried and it was the slickest thing I had ever done.

First I trimmed the unnotched edge of the skirt band about three-quarters of an inch. Then stitched the silk hem binding to the trimmed edge. Proceeded with pattern directions to stitch the front (notched) edge of waistband to skirt, stitched the ends together and turned.

I had a nice smooth piece of silk hem binding that lay flat and made no additional thickness to the waistband (and my waist).

After experimenting with the first one and trimming off the three-quarters of an inch of material, I now just fold that much pattern under on the unnotched edge of the waistband when cutting.

Give it a try!

OLIVER ZIEGLER.

DEAR HELOISE: This is the way I got my children to eat carrots when they were small:

I cooked carrots and potatoes together! When they were tender, I mashed them together as I would just plain mashed potatoes.

They make a nice looking dish. Most children and even adults go for them fixed this way.

GRANDMOTHER.

Grandmothers usually have a solution for most problems. Bless you!

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: Our son who is in college asked us to send him some fruit juice, but I could only find grape and tomato juice in individual serving cans.

Then one day while shopping I noticed the baby food section! I found a dozen different fruit juice combinations all in small cans. Easy to store and to dispose of when empty.

MARIAN.

DEAR HELOISE: Here's a description of a child that came to my mind recently:

"Children are somewhat like tape recorders, they record and play back what you do and say."

I know, I have a 2-year-old . . . L.S.

DEAR HELOISE: If someone in your home has limited vision, put a dab of red fingernail polish on the thermostat at 75 degrees.

Then if you cannot see the numbers you can spot the bright red spot and need only to push it slightly to the right of left to make it a little warmer or a little cooler.

A DAILY READER.

DEAR HELOISE: Here's how I "dress up" leftover beans:

I bring the two or three cups of leftover beans to a boil with finely diced onion, then I add a pound of crumbled hamburger meat. Simmer this until the meat is well done and serve with a green salad.

Mighty good and so inexpensive. Serves five for less than a dollar!

MRS. MONROE.

-:-

Can't beat that, can you?

HELOISE.

Heloise welcomes all mail, especially household hints which she can pass on to readers as space permits. However, because of the tremendous volume of mail she receives daily, Heloise is unable to answer all individual letters. She will answer readers' questions in her column whenever possible.

City Hospital Treats 9 In Emergencies

A city woman injured in a fall at home was admitted Sunday to City Hospital, where eight others were treated over the weekend.

Mrs. Vance Torrence of 151 Center St. is in "fair" condition with a left shoulder injury sustained in the fall.

Treated Sunday were Tammie Lynn Dunn, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Dunn II of St. Clair Ave., a laceration of the forehead in a fall against a television set; Sue Ann Stowers, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hobart Stowers of Shadyside Ave., burns of the face from hot grease while cooking.

Treated Saturday were Ailene Barrett of Hookstown RD 1, a laceration of the left arm when it went through a storm door; Tammy Beckwith, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Beckwith of 216 E. 3rd St., a laceration of the forehead in a fall in an alley.

Jack E. Myler of East Liverpool RD 2, a left leg injury when he dived from a diving board at the Weirton Community Center; Mrs. Wilson Smith of Birch Rd., a possible concussion in a fall down cellar steps.

Hints from Heloise

— By Heloise Cruse —

DEAR HELOISE: I have been sewing for years and years and have many little shortcuts I use. Recently I hit upon something I just have to share with you.

For all this time I have made skirt bands just as the pattern called for and ended up with five thicknesses of material right at my waist—where I need more thickness like I need a hole in my head!

I was making a skirt a few weeks ago and all of a sudden it dawned on me. Why not eliminate the two thicknesses of the turn under on the wrong side of the waist band by sewing a strip of hem binding on it and grimming the extra way?

I tried and it was the slickest thing I had ever done.

First I trimmed the unnotched edge of the skirt band about three-quarters of an inch. Then stitched the silk hem binding to the trimmed edge. Proceeded with pattern directions to stitch the front (notched) edge of waistband to skirt, stitched the ends together and turned.

I had a nice smooth piece of silk hem binding that lay flat and made no additional thickness to the waistband (and my waist).

After experimenting with the first one and trimming off the three-quarters of an inch of material, I now just fold that much pattern under on the unnotched edge of the waistband when cutting.

Give it a try!

OLIVER ZIEGLER.

DEAR HELOISE: This is the way I got my children to eat carrots when they were small:

I cooked carrots and potatoes together! When they were tender, I mashed them together as I would just plain mashed potatoes.

They make a nice looking dish. Most children and even adults go for them fixed this way.

GRANDMOTHER.

-:-

Grandmothers usually have a solution for most problems. Bless you!

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: Our son who is in college asked us to send him some fruit juice, but I could only find grape and tomato juice in individual serving cans.

Then one day while shopping I noticed the baby food section! I found a dozen different fruit juice combinations all in small cans. Easy to store and to dispose of when empty.

MARIAN.

DEAR HELOISE: Here's a description of a child that came to my mind recently:

"Children are somewhat like tape recorders, they record and play back what you do and say."

I know, I have a 2-year-old . . . L.S.

DEAR HELOISE: If someone in your home has limited vision, put a dab of red fingernail polish on the thermostat at 75 degrees.

Then if you cannot see the numbers you can spot the bright red spot and need only to push it slightly to the right of left to make it a little warmer or a little cooler.

A DAILY READER.

DEAR HELOISE: Here's how I "dress up" leftover beans:

I bring the two or three cups of leftover beans to a boil with finely diced onion, then I add a pound of crumbled hamburger meat. Simmer this until the meat is well done and serve with a green salad.

Mighty good and so inexpensive. Serves five for less than a dollar!

MRS. MONROE.

-:-

Can't beat that, can you?

HELOISE.

Heloise welcomes all mail, especially household hints which she can pass on to readers as space permits. However, because of the tremendous volume of mail she receives daily, Heloise is unable to answer all individual letters. She will answer readers' questions in her column whenever possible.

AMA Convenes In Houston

Medical Convention Eyes 60 Proposed Resolutions

By JOHN BARBOUR
Associated Press Science Writer

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — The American Medical Association's legislature begins today to study its semiannual list of proposed resolutions—some of them angry and frustrated, some serious and hopeful.

In all, there were well over 60 proposed resolutions the doctors' convention will consider. Relatively few will be accepted when the voting is registered Tuesday.

There were proposals concerning public health and hospital beds, group insurance and group practice by doctors, due process when a doctor is denied hospital privileges, grievance procedures for medicare patients with bills uncovered by their insurance.

There were proposals concerning the use of veterans' hospitals, the one-out-of-six U.S. doctors who are foreign trained, and narcotics storage in the face of a possible national disaster.

Among other resolutions the delegates were to consider were these:

—A proposal from the Pennsylvania delegation to ask the federal government for an accounting on the administrative costs for the first year of medicare. This proposal holds that medicare has greatly exceeded its estimated costs because of administrative charges—but doctors are being blamed for the excess.

—A proposal from the New Hampshire delegation that doctors be required to report medical disabilities in a patient that might impair that patient's ability to drive an automobile. No menton is made of patient consent—and the intent seems to be to make reporting mandatory as "a danger to public health."

—A proposal by the Indiana delegation that news items critical of the medical profession be promptly answered by the AMA, and published in AMA periodicals so that doctors will have the facts to answer such items personally.

—A proposal by the board of trustees to redefine and elaborate on the purposes and responsibilities of the AMA itself to improve its meaning to the general public. The 11-point elaboration would replace the century-old statement that the AMA's objectives are "to promote the science and arts of medicine and the betterment of public health."

—A proposal from the Pennsylvania delegation that the AMA talk with the insurance industry on the increasing difficulty of obtaining insurance against malpractice suits. Some AMA experts say the fear of malpractice suits is behind an increase in the costs of hospital and doctor care. Doctors seek to have every test possible performed on some patients against the chance they may one day have to defend their treatment and diagnosis in court.

AMA Convenes In Houston

Medical Convention Eyes 60 Proposed Resolutions

By JOHN BARBOUR
Associated Press Science Writer

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — The American Medical Association's legislature begins today to study its semiannual list of proposed resolutions—some of them angry and frustrated, some serious and hopeful.

In all, there were well over 60 proposed resolutions the doctors' convention will consider. Relatively few will be accepted when the voting is registered Tuesday.

There were proposals concerning public health and hospital beds, group insurance and group practice by doctors, due process when a doctor is denied hospital privileges, grievance procedures for medicare patients with bills uncovered by their insurance.

There were proposals concerning the use of veterans' hospitals, the one-out-of-six U.S. doctors who are foreign trained, and narcotics storage in the face of a possible national disaster.

Among other resolutions the delegates were to consider were these:

—A proposal from the Pennsylvania delegation to ask the federal government for an accounting on the administrative costs for the first year of medicare. This proposal holds that medicare has greatly exceeded its estimated costs because of administrative charges—but doctors are being blamed for the excess.

—A proposal from the New Hampshire delegation that doctors be required to report medical disabilities in a patient that might impair that patient's ability to drive an automobile. No mention is made of patient consent—and the intent seems to be to make reporting mandatory as "a danger to public health."

—A proposal by the Indiana delegation that news items critical of the medical profession be promptly answered by the AMA, and published in AMA periodicals so that doctors will have the facts to answer such items personally.

—A proposal by the board of trustees to redefine and elaborate on the purposes and responsibilities of the AMA itself to improve its meaning to the general public. The 11-point elaboration would replace the century-old statement that the AMA's objectives are "to promote the science and arts of medicine and the betterment of public health."

—A proposal from the Pennsylvania delegation that the AMA talk with the insurance industry on the increasing difficulty of obtaining insurance against malpractice suits. Some AMA experts say the fear of malpractice suits is behind an increase in the costs of hospital and doctor care. Doctors seek to have every test possible performed on some patients against the chance they may one day have to defend their treatment and diagnosis in court.

Resume Tax Talks

HARRISBURG (AP) — Gov. Shafer huddles again today with the four legislative floor leaders in hopes of reaching a bipartisan tax agreement before the start here Friday of the Constitutional Convention.

The 163 delegates to the three-month convention are scheduled to utilize the State House chamber. Also, 13 of their number are legislative leaders including the four holding tax talks with Shafer.

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: I'm writing this letter in the hope it will reach the thousands of parents whose children have gone off to college for the first time.

I'm a registrar in a Midwestern coeducational college. I have seen dozens of students quit and go home because they were homesick. Other students, equally homesick, have stuck it out and gone on to graduation.

The difference between these two groups is invariably the parents. It's amazing to me how many otherwise intelligent parents tell their kids who blubber on the phone about homesickness, "You don't have to stay there if you don't want to. Come home."

Then there are parents who write to their kids and tell them how much they miss them, how sick they've been and how hard up for money they are. Naturally the student who is not very enthusiastic about college in the first place is inclined to chuck everything and come home "for the sake of the folks."

Wise parents understand the value of a college education and do everything they can to help their children get that diploma. The student who is told, "This is a major challenge, stay there and meet it," often will do just that.

The student who is permitted to throw in the towel and come home after a few weeks (or months) may well develop a defeatist approach to all of life's challenges. — JOHN W. HAUER, RAPID CITY, S.D.

Dear J.W.H.: Thank you for a superb letter. I long have suspected that parents who allow their kids to fold out of college within the first few weeks or months do so because they, the parents, are lonely and want the child at home. I hope your letter opens up a few thousand eyes around the country.

Check Up Time

Dear Ann: One sentence from you will settle this argument.

Is it good taste to display checks with the wedding gifts? I feel it is not, since some of my less affluent relatives gave us rather modest checks as compared to the well-heeled folks on my fiance's side whose checks were downright staggering.

My parents feel it's the spirit of the giver and not the size of the gift that counts. They say all checks should be on display.

What's the last and final word on this?—BATTLE WEARY.

Dear Weary: There's no "last and final word." The answer is not part of the Bill of Rights, or the Magna Charta. I can only give you my opinion.

I think wedding checks should be placed in sealed envelopes — with the names of the givers on the outside. Those who view the gifts will then be aware that Uncle Barney and Aunt Eleanor gave a gift but the size of the check will remain undisclosed.

Confidentially

To Your Old Houston Buddy Who Is Not Drinking Any More: From the sound of your letter you are not drinking any less. Your chief problem is still booze and until you're willing to accept this you'll continue to have the other problems. I recommend Alcoholics Anonymous. Look in the phone book; learn when and where the next meeting takes place—and go.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

The only child in U. S. history ever to be born to a president-elect was John F. Kennedy Jr., who was born to Sen. John F. and Mrs. Kennedy on Nov. 25, 1960.

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: I'm writing this letter in the hope it will reach the thousands of parents whose children have gone off to college for the first time.

I'm a registrar in a Midwestern coeducational college. I have seen dozens of students quit and go home because they were homesick. Other students, equally homesick, have stuck it out and gone on to graduation.

The difference between these two groups is invariably the parents. It's amazing to me how many otherwise intelligent parents tell their kids who blubber on the phone about homesickness, "You don't have to stay there if you don't want to. Come home."

Then there are parents who write to their kids and tell them how much they miss them, how sick they've been and how hard up for money they are. Naturally the student who is not very enthusiastic about college in the first place is inclined to chuck everything and come home "for the sake of the folks."

Wise parents understand the value of a college education and do everything they can to help their children get that diploma. The student who is told, "This is a major challenge, stay there and meet it," often will do just that.

The student who is permitted to throw in the towel and come home after a few weeks (or months) may well develop a defeatist approach to all of life's challenges. — JOHN W. HAUER, RAPID CITY, S.D.

Dear J.W.H.: Thank you for a superb letter. I long have suspected that parents who allow their kids to fold out of college within the first few weeks or months do so because they, the parents, are lonely and want the child at home. I hope your letter opens up a few thousand eyes around the country.

Check Up Time

Dear Ann: One sentence from you will settle this argument.

Is it good taste to display checks with the wedding gifts? I feel it is not, since some of my less affluent relatives gave us rather modest checks as compared to the well-heeled folks on my fiance's side whose checks were downright staggering.

My parents feel it's the spirit of the giver and not the size of the gift that counts. They say all checks should be on display.

What's the last and final word on this?—BATTLE WEARY.

Dear Weary: There's no "last and final word." The answer is not part of the Bill of Rights, or the Magna Charta. I can only give you my opinion.

I think wedding checks should be placed in sealed envelopes — with the names of the givers on the outside. Those who view the gifts will then be aware that Uncle Barney and Aunt Eleanor gave a gift but the size of the check will remain undisclosed.

Confidentially

To Your Old Houston Buddy Who Is Not Drinking Any More: From the sound of your letter you are not drinking any less. Your chief problem is still booze and until you're willing to accept this you'll continue to have the other problems. I recommend Alcoholics Anonymous. Look in the phone book; learn when and where the next meeting takes place—and go.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Packers Clinch Central Division With Win Over Bears

Sports Whirled

By TURK PIERCE
Review Sports Editor

There was enough football on television over the weekend to satisfy almost anybody, but there's a long way to go before the grid sport leaves the tube.

Thanksgiving Day must have been some kind of a record, with six pigskin contests beamed over the four Pittsburgh channels. Even New Year's Day has only four games. The best of the lot, surprisingly, was the high school fray, New Castle's 20-14 win over Mt. Lebanon for the WPIAL AA championship. The college game, Nebraska-Oklahoma, was also a good one. Of the four procontests, only the San Diego-Denver affair was close.

Yesterday's hard-hitting contest between Baltimore and San Francisco was certainly worthwhile, but it was probably just as well that the Steeler-Viking comedy of errors was confined to radio in this area.

EAST LIVERPOOL'S Chuck Winters hit two of four passes for 38 yards in Pitt's 42-6 loss to Penn State Saturday. Midland's Mike Krivoshia scored the tie-breaking touchdown as Indiana upset Purdue 19-14 and earned a trip to the Rose Bowl. Krivoshia's one-game school rushing mark of 141 yards was surpassed by Terry Cole, but we're sure Mike's happy over the thought of spending New Year's in California.

Midland's Jan Samuels ended the season at Findlay College with 29 of 60 passes completed for 501 yards and five TDs. He had eight intercepted. End Jack Mondell of Ellwood City gathered in three TD tosses and ranked second on the team in scoring. Mondell's brother, Tom, a senior at Ellwood City, was named to the first team UPI all-state (Pennsylvania), as was Ron (Po) James of New Brighton and center Phil Toney of New Castle. Lou Santangelo, who made the game-breaking run for New Castle Thursday, made third team.

THE PIPERS attracted a fine crowd of 7,840 Friday night, and it couldn't have been the team, as it had lost two games in a row. Maybe it was (1) the presence of Willie Somerset on the opposing Houston Mavericks; (2) a high school game as a preliminary; (3) the fact that it was Friday, instead of Tuesday, Thursday or Sunday, when the Pipers play most of their home games; or (4) the fact that it was over Thanksgiving vacation and a lot of college kids attended. Whatever the reason, the management was heartened, and the fans were heartened as Pittsburgh jumped to a 43-9 first quarter lead and coasted to a 128-84 win.

Browns Remain Tops In Century

By DICK COUCH
Associated Press Sports Writer

Green Bay's burial brigade has made an early killing in the National Football League's Central Division.

But, if you ask Packer pundit Vince Lombardi, Chicago's Papa Bear is a very lively corpse.

Lombardi lauded George Halas, Chicago's 72-year-old owner-coach, Sunday after the Packers nailed down the Central title with a 17-13 verdict over the rugged Bears.

"'Get this straight; he's an old man but he's a great man," Lombardi told newsmen in Chicago, where stories had been written suggesting Halas step down after 40 years as the Bears' pilot. "A lesser man might have given up after what happened to his team earlier in the year. But Halas doesn't know what it means.

"Instead of giving up, Mr Halas turns around and gives the league its most improved team. The Bears are a great club, and I'm glad we clinched it against them."

While the Packers' hard-earned victory gave them an insurmountable 3½-game lead in the Central Division, idle Dallas closed in on the Capitol title, Cleveland clung to the Century lead and unbeaten Baltimore regained its one-game edge in the Coastal race.

New York flattened Philadelphia 44-7, dropping the Eagles three games off Dallas' Capitol pace with three games remaining. The Browns outscored Washington 42-37 to remain one game ahead of New York in the Century scramble. The Colts moved one-game up on idle Los Angeles in the Coastal derby by trimming San Francisco 26-9 for a 9-0-2 mark.

Minnesota downed Pittsburgh 41-27 and New Orleans edged Atlanta 27-24 in other NFL games.

In American Football league play, Houston kept its Eastern Division pennant hopes alive with a 27-6 victory over Boston and Miami upended Buffalo 17-14.

Green Bay's defending NFL champs capitalized on Dave Robinson's pass interception and Travis Williams' 69-yard kickoff return for two first-half touchdowns, added a third-quarter field goal by Don Chandler and then held off the Bears for their eighth victory against two losses and one tie. The second-place Bears are 5-6.

Bart Starr passed five yards to Boyd Dowler for the Packers' first TD and Donny Anderson plunged one yard for the second. Chandler's 38-yard field goal followed Gale Sayers' fumble of a Pacer punt.

Sayers, however, rambled for 117 yards on 18 carries and scored the Bears' lone touchdown on a 43-yard jaunt. Two field goals by Mac Percival completed the Chicago scoring.

Scrambling Fran Tarkenton led the Giants, 6-5, on their biggest point binge in four years, passing for 261 yards and three touchdowns. Homer Jones caught two TD passes, including a 63-yarder that helped him become the first NFL receiver to go over the 1,000-yard mark this season.

Leroy Kelly topped the 1,000-yard plateau in rushing yardage, streaking for 163 yards and two touchdowns while helping Cleveland, 7-4, offset the red-hot passing of Redskin quarterback Sonny Jurgensen.

Jurgy hit on 32 of 50 tosses for 373 yards and three touchdowns. Carl Ward returned a kickoff 104 yards for the Browns' game-breaking touchdown.

Four field goals by Lou Michaels and Lenny Lyles' 36-yard scoring scamper with an intercepted pass carried the Colts past San Francisco. The 49ers, unable to penetrate Baltimore's tough defense, had to settle for three Tommy Davis field goals while dropping their sixth game against five victories.

Defensive back Karl Kassulke set up two Minnesota touchdowns by blocking a punt and recovering a fumble as the Vikings broke away from Pittsburgh in the final quarter with 21 points in just over two minutes.

Bill Kilmer's seven-yard TD pitch to Kent Kramer with 53 seconds to play shot the Saints past the Falcons in a Dixie dogfight between the NFL's two newest franchises. Hoyle Granger romped for 124 yards and one touchdown; Pete Beathard flipped a two-yard scoring pass to Glenn Bass and John Wittenborn kicked three field goals as Houston, 6-3-1, moved within one game of New York's idle AFL Eastern Division leaders.

Rookie Bob Griese hooked up with Howard Twilley on a 31-yard scoring pass in the final minute, giving Miami its second AFL victory in 10 starts. The Dolphins are only one-half game behind the skidding Bills, who have dropped three in a row.

Muskies Take ABA Lead

By The Associated Press

Home is where the heart is, and in the case of the Minnesota Muskies there are a lot of victories there too.

The Muskies replaced Indiana atop the American Basketball Association's Eastern Division Sunday by trouncing the Pacers 121-99 at Minneapolis-St. Paul for their ninth straight home-court victory and 13th triumph in the last 15 games.

In other ABA action Sunday, New Orleans drubbed New Jersey 134-116, Dallas topped Anaheim 114-102 and Denver blasted Pittsburgh 112-99.

The Muskies, sparked by Don Freeman's 26 points, built up a 30-point lead, 107-77, in the fourth quarter and coasted to their 14th victory in 19 games. Oliver Darden scored 15 points

New Orleans, the Western Division leader, led by only seven points, 107-100, in the second half but then pulled away for an easy victory. Substitute Jesse Branson paced the winning Buccaneers with 34 points. Tony Jackson poured in 36 for Jersey.

Bob Verga scored 34 points for Dallas, which was held to 15 points in the first period but then broke loose for 41 in the second. Bob Bedell paced Anaheim with 23.

Hightower each scored 26 points

Tom Bowens and Wayne to pace the Denver victory. Chico Vaughn sank seven three-point baskets and finished with 29 points for Pittsburgh.

Surprising Bruins 1st In NHL Eastern Half

By HAL BOCK
Associated Press Sports Writer

The National Hockey League's Eastern Division standings seem upside down while in the Western Division, St. Louis is just plain down.

The Blues slipped deeper into the expansion division cellar Sunday night, losing a 1-0 toughie to New York, while surprising Boston grabbed the Eastern lead with John McKenzie's three goals pacing a 7-5 victory over Detroit.

In other NHL action Sunday, Chicago nipped Minnesota 2-1 on a pair of goals by Doug Mohns, and Philadelphia pounded Los Angeles 7-2 to grab the Western Division lead.

St. Louis' winless streak stretched to seven games despite strong goaltending by Seth Martin, a 34-year-old rookie, who had the Rangers blanked until the final four minutes.

Then Phil Goyette's back-hander broke the scoreless deadlock and made rookie goalie Gilles Villemure's first NHL shutout a victory instead of a tie.

Meanwhile, Boston, last-place finisher in six of the last seven seasons, continued its dash to the top of the old division with goals by Tommy Williams and McKenzie in the final three minutes sinking Detroit.

The Red Wings had twice wiped out three-goal deficits and tied the score in the third period on goals by Paul Henderson and Floyd Smith before Boston won it. The Bruins lead Toronto by two points.

It was Boston's third straight victory and drew another sellout crowd of 13,909 — the Bruins' 10th full house in 11 dates at Boston Garden.

Mohns, who missed the early weeks of the season with a charley horse—one of the main reasons Chicago dropped its first six games — drilled two power play goals past Minnesota's Cesare Maniago.

Maniago had taken over in the first period for Gary Bauman, who was knocked unconscious when struck under the right ear by a blazing shot off the stick of Bobby Hull. Bauman suffered a bruise but was not hospitalized.

Philadelphia stormed into first place in the Western Division, shelling Los Angeles goalie Wayne Rutledge for five goals and then finishing the job with two more against backup man Terry Sawchuk.

First period goals by Leon Rochefort, Pat Hannigan and Ed Hoekstra shot the Flyers into a quick lead and after the bulge opened to 5-0 in the second period, Sawchuk took over.

Sawchuk gave up Philadelphia's last two goals as the Flyers ended a three-game LA winning streak and moved one point in front of the Kings in the Western race.

Lakers Top Hawks In Lone NBA Clash

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The Los Angeles Lakers will face the task Tuesday night of trying to beat the winningest team in the National Basketball Association for the second time in a row.

The Lakers topped the first-place St. Louis Hawks 109-105 in a sloppily played game Sunday night to give the Hawks an 18-5 record, tops in the league and in the Western Division.

Los Angeles, third with an 11-9 record, 5½ games off the pace, has beaten the Hawks in two of the three games the teams have played this season.

But the Lakers haven't been able to handle the second place San Francisco Warriors who knocked them off twice, 122-121 in overtime and 121-112, in weekend games. The Warriors are 16-7, two games behind the Hawks.

Los Angeles, in snapping its two-game losing streak, gave the ball away half a dozen times Sunday night and trailed 23-22 at the end of the opening period.

Quick baskets by Archie Clark and Gail Goodrich in the last minute of the second period gave Los Angeles a 47-46 halftime lead.

While St. Louis and the Lakers are tangling Tuesday night, San Francisco will be at Baltimore, Boston will host Detroit, Seattle will visit Chicago and New York will take on Philadelphia.

Ohio St. Tops Michigan, Finishes 6-3 Season

By The Associated Press

Beat Michigan and that's just about all it takes for Ohio State to have a succefsslul football season.

The Buckeyes did just that at Ann Arbor Saturday, belting the Wolverines 24-14 and ended up with a 6-3 record and 5-2 Big Ten mark for the year.

It was one of only two games on the Ohio college football card. The other saw Bowling Green easily ramble over Los Angeles State 42-27.

"We got the jump on them and that proved to be the ball game," said Buckeye Coach Woody Hayes after putting the wraps on his 17th year at the Ohio State helm.

The Bucks held a 21-0 lead in the second quarter with halfback Rudy Hubbard getting the first two touchdowns on runs of 28 and 12 yards. Quarterback Bill Long got the remaining Buckeye TD on a one-yard run, and Gary Cairns polished off Buckeye scoring with a 37-yard field goal in the final period.

Ohio State refused to let the Wolverines cross the Buckeye 40 yard line until late in the second period. Michigan drove 80 yards to get on the scoreboard with Dennis Brown hitting Jim Berline with a six-yard touchdown pass with 50 seconds to play in the half.

Michigan's final tally came in the third period when Brown hit John Gabler with a 13-yard scoring aerial.

At Pasadena, Bowling Green quarterback P. J. Nyitray connected on touchdown passes of 40 and 53 yards to halfback Dave Cranmer to highlight the BeeGee victory.

Fairmont St. Gains NAIA Final Game

FAIRMONT (AP) — "This proves we've got two good quarterbacks," chortled Harold "Deacon" Duvall, coach of the Fairmont State Falcons.

His team, the champions of the West Virginia Intercollegiate Athletic Conference, downed Northern Michigan University 21-7 Saturday in an NAIA semi-final tilt to win a berth in the Dec. 9 championship game.

Duvall started Roy Michael at quarterback but John Kara saw plenty of action. Each threw a touchdown pass and teamed to complete 10 of 19 passes.

NAIA officials in Kansas City have not yet announced a site for the championship game, which will pit the Falcons against Eastern Washington State.

Green Bay's burial brigade has made an early killing in the National Football League's Central Division.

But, if you ask Packer pundit Vince Lombardi, Chicago's Papa Bear is a very lively corpse.

Lombardi lauded George Halas, Chicago's 72-year-old owner-coach, Sunday after the Packers nailed down the Central title with a 17-13 verdict over the rugged Bears.

"Get this straight; he's an old man but he's a great man," Lombardi told newsmen in Chicago, where stories had been written suggesting Halas step down after 40 years as the Bears' pilot. "A lesser man might have given up after what happened to his team earlier in the year. But Halas doesn't know what it means.

"Instead of giving up, Mr Halas turns around and gives the league its most improved team. The Bears are a great club, and I'm glad we clinched it against them."

While the Packers' hard-earned victory gave them an insurmountable 3½-game lead in the Central Division, idle Dallas closed in on the Capitol title, Cleveland clung to the Century lead and unbeaten Baltimore regained its one-game edge in the Coastal race.

New York flattened Philadelphia 44-7, dropping the Eagles three games off Dallas' Capitol pace with three games remaining. The Browns outscored Washington 42-37 to remain one game ahead of New York in the Century scramble. The Colts moved one-game up on idle Los Angeles in the Coastal derby by trimming San Francisco 26-9 for a 9-0-2 mark.

Minnesota downed Pittsburgh 41-27 and New Orleans edged Atlanta 27-24 in other NFL games.

In American Football league play, Houston kept its Eastern Division pennant hopes alive with a 27-6 victory over Boston and Miami upended Buffalo 17-14.

Green Bay's defending NFL champs capitalized on Dave Robinson's pass interception and Travis Williams' 69-yard kickoff return for two first-half touchdowns, added a third-quarter field goal by Don Chandler and then held off the Bears for their eighth victory against two losses and one tie. The second-place Bears are 5-6.

Bart Starr passed five yards to Boyd Dowler for the Packers' first TD and Donny Anderson plunged one yard for the second. Chandler's 38-yard field goal followed Gale Sayers' fumble of a Pacer punt.

Sayers, however, rambled for 117 yards on 18 carries and scored the Bears' lone touchdown on a 43-yard jaunt. Two field goals by Mac Percival completed the Chicago scoring.

Scrambling Fran Tarkenton led the Giants, 6-5, on their biggest point binge in four years, passing for 261 yards and three touchdowns. Homer Jones caught two TD passes, including a 63-yarder that helped him become the first NFL receiver to go over the 1,000-yard mark this season.

Leroy Kelly topped the 1,000-yard plateau in rushing yardage, streaking for 163 yards and two touchdowns while helping Cleveland, 7-4, offset the red-hot passing of Redskin quarterback Sonny Jurgensen.

Jurgy hit on 32 of 50 tosses for 373 yards and three touchdowns. Carl Ward returned a kickoff 104 yards for the Browns' game-breaking touchdown.

Four field goals by Lou Michaels and Lenny Lyles' 36-yard scoring scamper with an intercepted pass carried the Colts past San Francisco. The 49ers, unable to penetrate Baltimore's tough defense, had to settle for three Tommy Davis field goals while dropping their sixth game against five victories.

Defensive back Karl Kassulke set up two Minnesota touchdowns by blocking a punt and recovering a fumble as the Vikings broke away from Pittsburgh in the final quarter with 21 points in just over two minutes.

Bill Kilmer's seven-yard TD pitch to Kent Kramer with 53 seconds to play shot the Saints past the Falcons in a Dixie dogfight between the NFL's two newest franchises. Hoyle Granger romped for 124 yards and one touchdown; Pete Beathard flipped a two-yard scoring pass to Glenn Bass and John Wittenborn kicked three field goals as Houston, 6-3-1, moved within one game of New York's idle AFL Eastern Division leaders.

Rookie Bob Griese hooked up with Howard Twilley on a 31-yard scoring pass in the final minute, giving Miami its second AFL victory in 10 starts. The Dolphins are only one-half game behind the skidding Bills, who have dropped three in a row.

Muskies Take ABA Lead

By The Associated Press

Home is where the heart is, and in the case of the Minnesota Muskies there are a lot of victories there too.

The Muskies replaced Indiana atop the American Basketball Association's Eastern Division Sunday by trouncing the Pacers 121-99 at Minneapolis-St. Paul for their ninth straight home-court victory and 13th triumph in the last 15 games.

In other ABA action Sunday, New Orleans drubbed New Jersey 134-116, Dallas topped Anaheim 114-102 and Denver blasted Pittsburgh 112-99.

The Muskies, sparked by Don Freeman's 26 points, built up a 30-point lead, 107-77, in the fourth quarter and coasted to their 14th victory in 19 games. Oliver Darden scored 15 points

New Orleans, the Western Division leader, led by only seven points, 107-100, in the second half but then pulled away for an easy victory. Substitute Jesse Branson paced the winning Buccaneers with 34 points. Tony Jackson poured in 36 for Jersey.

Bob Verga scored 34 points for Dallas, which was held to 15 points in the first period but then broke loose for 41 in the second. Bob Bedell paced Anaheim with 23.

Hightower each scored 26 points

Tom Bowens and Wayne to pace the Denver victory. Chico Vaughn sank seven three-point baskets and finished with 29 points for Pittsburgh.

Surprising Bruins 1st In NHL Eastern Half

By HAL BOCK
Associated Press Sports Writer

The National Hockey League's Eastern Division standings seem upside down while in the Western Division, St. Louis is just plain down.

The Blues slipped deeper into the expansion division cellar Sunday night, losing a 1-0 toughie to New York, while surprising Boston grabbed the Eastern lead with John McKenzie's three goals pacing a 7-5 victory over Detroit.

In other NHL action Sunday, Chicago nipped Minnesota 2-1 on a pair of goals by Doug Mohns, and Philadelphia pounded Los Angeles 7-2 to grab the Western Division lead.

St. Louis' winless streak stretched to seven games despite strong goaltending by Seth Martin, a 34-year-old rookie, who had the Rangers blanked until the final four minutes.

Then Phil Goyette's back-hander broke the scoreless deadlock and made rookie goalie Gilles Villemure's first NHL shutout a victory instead of a tie.

Meanwhile, Boston, last-place finisher in six of the last seven seasons, continued its dash to the top of the old division with goals by Tommy Williams and McKenzie in the final three minutes sinking Detroit.

The Red Wings had twice wiped out three-goal deficits and tied the score in the third period on goals by Paul Henderson and Floyd Smith before Boston won it. The Bruins lead Toronto by two points.

It was Boston's third straight victory and drew another sellout crowd of 13,909 — the Bruins' 10th full house in 11 dates at Boston Garden.

Mohns, who missed the early weeks of the season with a charley horse—one of the main reasons Chicago dropped its first six games — drilled two power play goals past Minnesota's Cesare Maniago.

Maniago had taken over in the first period for Gary Bauman, who was knocked unconscious when struck under the right ear by a blazing shot off the stick of Bobby Hull. Bauman suffered a bruise but was not hospitalized.

Philadelphia stormed into first place in the Western Division, shelling Los Angeles goalie Wayne Rutledge for five goals and then finishing the job with two more against backup man Terry Sawchuk.

First period goals by Leon Rochefort, Pat Hannigan and Ed Hoekstra shot the Flyers into a quick lead and after the bulge opened to 5-0 in the second period, Sawchuk took over.

Sawchuk gave up Philadelphia's last two goals as the Flyers ended a three-game LA winning streak and moved one point in front of the Kings in the Western race.

Lakers Top Hawks In Lone NBA Clash

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The Los Angeles Lakers will face the task Tuesday night of trying to beat the winningest team in the National Basketball Association for the second time in a row.

The Lakers topped the first-place St. Louis Hawks 109-105 in a sloppily played game Sunday night to give the Hawks an 18-5 record, tops in the league and in the Western Division.

Los Angeles, third with an 11-9 record, 5½ games off the pace, has beaten the Hawks in two of the three games the teams have played this season.

But the Lakers haven't been able to handle the second place San Francisco Warriors who knocked them off twice, 122-121 in overtime and 121-112, in weekend games. The Warriors are 16-7, two games behind the Hawks.

Los Angeles, in snapping its two-game losing streak, gave the ball away half a dozen times Sunday night and trailed 23-22 at the end of the opening period.

Quick baskets by Archie Clark and Gail Goodrich in the last minute of the second period gave Los Angeles a 47-46 halftime lead.

While St. Louis and the Lakers are tangling Tuesday night, San Francisco will be at Baltimore, Boston will host Detroit, Seattle will visit Chicago and New York will take on Philadelphia.

Ohio St. Tops Michigan, Finishes 6-3 Season

By The Associated Press

Beat Michigan and that's just about all it takes for Ohio State to have a succefsslul football season.

The Buckeyes did just that at Ann Arbor Saturday, belting the Wolverines 24-14 and ended up with a 6-3 record and 5-2 Big Ten mark for the year.

It was one of only two games on the Ohio college football card. The other saw Bowling Green easily ramble over Los Angeles State 42-27.

"We got the jump on them and that proved to be the ball game," said Buckeye Coach Woody Hayes after putting the wraps on his 17th year at the Ohio State helm.

The Bucks held a 21-0 lead in the second quarter with halfback Rudy Hubbard getting the first two touchdowns on runs of 22 and 12 yards. Quarterback Bill Long got the remaining Buckeye TD on a one-yard run, and Gary Cairns polished off Buckeye scoring with a 37-yard field goal in the final period.

Ohio State refused to let the Wolverines cross the Buckeye 40 yard line until late in the second period. Michigan drove 80 yards to get on the scoreboard with Dennis Brown hitting Jim Berline with a six-yard touchdown pass with 50 seconds to play in the half.

Michigan's final tally came in the third period when Brown hit John Gabler with a 13-yard scoring aerial.

At Pasadena, Bowling Green quarterback P. J. Nyitray connected on touchdown passes of 40 and 53 yards to halfback Dave Cranmer to highlight the BeeGee victory.

Fairmont St. Gains NAIA Final Game

FAIRMONT (AP) — "This proves we've got two good quarterbacks," chortled Harold "Deacon" Duvall, coach of the Fairmont State Falcons.

His team, the champions of the West Virginia Intercollegiate Athletic Conference, downed Northern Michigan University 21-7 Saturday in an NAIA semi-final tilt to win a berth in the Dec. 9 championship game.

Duvall started Roy Michael at quarterback but John Kara saw plenty of action. Each threw a touchdown pass and teamed to complete 10 of 19 passes.

NAIA officials in Kansas City have not yet announced a site for the championship game, which will pit the Falcons against Eastern Washington State.

Indiana Shocks Purdue, Earns Trip To Rose Bowl

By ED SCHUYLER JR.
Associated Press Sports Writer

Indiana Coach John Pont already has worked a miracle on the football field and now he seems to expect one off it.

Pont, whose Hoosiers won a trip to the Rose Bowl by shocking third-ranked Purdue 19-14 Saturday, said Sunday his team now would get a three-week rest and added:

"Our players now go back to leading normal lives."

This makes Pont either a supreme optimist or one of the greatest dry wits in Indiana since Herb Shriner.

Nothing even remotely connected with Indiana football has been normal since the season started.

The sophomore-loaded Hoosiers did the unexpected by winning their first eight games to make the Top Ten, did the expected by losing to Minnesota and dropping out of the national ranking and then did the unexpected again by beating Purdue.

Now the Hoosiers will face first-ranked Southern California, which finished the previous weekend with a 9-1 record—a task which shouldn't be much more difficult than that of returning to normal lives.

Indiana tied Purdue and Minnesota for the Big Ten title at 6-1, but the Hoosiers got the bowl bid because they have never been there. Minnesota, 8-2 over all, scored twice in the third quarter to beat Wisconsin 21-14. Purdue also finished at 8-2 overall.

All of the other major bowl pairings were completed Saturday.

Florida State, 7-2-1, nipped Florida 21-16 and was picked to meet Penn State, 8-2 and a 42-6 victory over Pittsburgh, in the Gator Bowl at Jacksonville, Fla., and Texas at El Paso, 6-2-1, trounced Utah 28-8 and was tabbed to play Mississippi, 5-3-1, in the Sun Bowl at El Paso. Both games will be played Dec. 30.

Idle North Carolina State, which lost its last two games after winning the first eight, got some good news. The Wolfpack will meet Georgia, 7-3 and 21-14 conqueror of Georgia Tech, in the Liberty Bowl at Memphis, Tenn., Dec. 16.

Purdue wasn't the only member of the Top Ten to get upset Saturday.

Syracuse surprised fourth-ranked UCLA, 7-2-1, 32-14 as Rick Cassata ran for two TDs and passed for another pair and Tulsa got two second-half scoring passes from Mike Stribling and beat No. 10 Houston, 7-3, 22-13.

In the only other game involving a Top Ten team, five pass interceptions helped second-ranked Tennessee to a 17-7 victory over Kentucky. The Volunteers, 8-1, are headed for the Orange Bowl against No. 5 Oklahoma, 9-1, which beat Nebraska 21-14 Thanksgiving Day.

Seventh-ranked Wyoming, 10-0 and bound for the Sugar Bowl against Louisiana State, which beat Tulane 41-27, and No. 9 Alabama, 7-1-1, headed for the Cotton Bowl against idle Texas A&M, did not play Saturday.

Eighth-rated Oregon State, 7-2-1, also was idle, and No. 6 Notre Dame, 8-2, beat Miami, Fla., Colorado's Bluebonnet Bowl opponent, 24-22 Friday night.

Indiana, which won its only other Big Ten title in 1945 and which was 1-9 last year, scored all of its points in the first half and then held off Purdue, which lost four fumbles including one on the Hoosiers' one-yard line, in the second half. Gerry Cole ran 63 yards for one Indiana TD, rambled 42 yards to set up another and Harry Gonso passed for one.

Texas at El Paso quarterback Billy Stevens set an NCAA career record of 51 TD passes by throwing two against Utah.

In other big games, Clemson won the Atlantic Conference championship by topping South Carolina 23-12, Ivy League king Yale edged Harvard 24-20 in The Game, Colorado drubbed Air Force 33-0 Memphis State knocked North Texas State from the major unbeaten list, 29-20, and Texas Tech edged Arkansas 31-27, apparently costing the Razorbacks a Liberty Bowl bid.

UCLA To Dominate College Basketball

By TED MEIER
Associated Press Sports Writer

UCLA and Adolph Rupp, veteran Kentucky coach, may set all-time records in the college basketball season that opens officially Friday night.

UCLA, favored to win its second straight national championship, may be shooting for an all-time 61-game winning streak. Rupp can become the all-time winning coach with 772 triumphs.

UCLA, with 7-foot-1 Lew Alcindor as the key, seeks its 35th consecutive victory in its opening game against Purdue at Lafayette, Ind., Saturday afternoon.

The Bruins of Coach Johnny Wooden were unbeaten in 30 games last season. They had started the 1967 season with a carryover of four in a row. Thus it is possible for them to erase this season the record of 60 in a row set by the University of San Francisco 12 years ago when Big Bill Russell, now of the pro Boston Celtics, starred for the Dons.

And with the towering Alcindor back as a junior, along with other stars such as Lucius Allen, Mike Warren, Ken Heitz and Lynn Shackelford, most observers believe UCLA will do it.

Rupp, already the winningest active coach with 760 career victories, needs only 12 more by his Kentucky Wildcats to break the all-time record of 771 held by the retired Phog Allen of Kansas. Kentucky need only match its 13-13 record of last season for Rupp to become No. 1 on the all-time coaching list.

Kentucky, unranked in the preseason Associated Press poll in which UCLA was a unanimous choice, opens on the road against Michigan Saturday.

Houston was ranked second and Louisville third in the AP poll announced last Saturday. Rounding out the Top Ten, in order, were North Carolina, Kansas, Dayton, Boston College, Princeton, Vanderbilt and Davidson. Indiana and Tennessee missed making the Top Ten by only a few votes in the balloting by the AP panel of 30 sports writers and broadcasters.

Wooden, whose UCLA teams have won the national title three times in the last four years, said the Bruins won't have an easy time this season.

"As a matter of fact, our own Pacific-8 Conference has some might good teams," he said. "We first have to win here before we can play for the national title."

Three of the Top Ten, Princeton, Louisville and Davidson, open at home Friday night. Army is at Princeton, Georgetown, Ky. at Louisville and Bucknell at Davidson.

On Saturday, in addition to UCLA at Purdue, Northern Michigan is at Dayton, Utah State at Kansas, Virginia Tech at North Carolina, Vanderbilt at Southern Methodist and Sacramento State at Houston. Boston College doesn't open until Dec. 5 at home against Dartmouth.

Courtney Staves Off Wall's Great Charge

SAN JUAN, P.R. (AP) — A fantastic charge by Art Wall just missed, as did a bid for a hole in one, and Chuck Courtney held on for a two-stroke victory in the Puerto Rico Open Golf Tournament.

Wall, a veteran from Pocono Maner, Pa., fired a five-under-par 67 Sunday, made up five strokes on the leader and took second with a 282 while Courtney shot a conservative 72 for 280.

Jerry Pittman had a final round of 70 for 284 and third place, followed by Fred Baird, 70 for 285.

DAYTONA BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Jerry Hansen of Minneapolis Sunday drove his Lola-Chevy over the 3.1 mile track road course at an average speed of 111.6 miles per hour to win the closing and feature race of Champions at Daytona International Speedway.

Reflected Glory Makes Comeback

By The Associated Press

Reflected Glory, the colt who was the winter book favorite for the 1967 Kentucky Derby before suffering bucked shins, is well along the road back to the big money in horse racing.

"He is coming along fine and we have high hopes for the future," trainer Hirsch Jacobs said today.

The veteran Jacobs, who conditions the colt for his wife, Mrs. Ethel D. Jacobs, said the 3-year-old son of Jester-Lysistrata would make his next start Saturday in the $50,000 Stuyvesant Handicap at Aqueduct.

Reflected Glory put in one of his old-time charges from last place and won the $15,000 Old Rosebud Purse before the Gallant Fox Handicap at Aqueduct last Saturday. Ridden by Braulio Baeza Reflected Glory made up some 15 lengths coming into the stretch and then caught and passed Flying Tackle who led by eight lengths with 200 yards left.

"He came out of the race in good shape," said Jacobs of Reflected Glory who now has won $161,000 this year with five victories in 11 starts, including two of his last three outings.

Proud Clarion, the Derby winner, proved a disappointment for Baeza in the Gallant Fox. Off as the 2-5 favorite, Proud Clarion finished sixth in the 1-5-8 mile race, 40 lengths back of Niarkos, the surprise winner who led all the way.

Jorge Velasquez, the nation's leading jockey, moved closer to his 1967 goal of 400 winners with a triple at Tropical Park including Icy Nino in the City of Miami Handicap. Velasquez's winners for the year now total 392.

Deer Season Opens Today In Penna.

HARRISBURG (AP) — The deer season opened in Pennsylvania today and the State Game Commission predicts a plentiful supply of whitetail.

A total of 118,753 deer were bagged last season. However, the commission reports this year's fawn crop more than replaced that number.

The season runs through Dec. 9 with shooting hours from one-half hour before sunrise to sunset; Sundays excepted. The season limit is still one deer per hunter.

Wins Auto Race

RIVERSIDE, Calif. (AP) — Dan Gurney Sunday took the lead from Bobby Unser on the final lap and drove his powerful All-American racer to victory in the first running of the Rex Mays 300-mile race for Indianapolis-type cars.

Former Pirate Johnny O'Brien scored 2,701 points in three years of varsity basketball at Seattle U. This total is surpassed among major college players only by the 2,973 scored by Oscar Robertson at Cincinnati.

Indiana Shocks Purdue, Earns Trip To Rose Bowl

By ED SCHUYLER JR.
Associated Press Sports Writer

Indiana Coach John Pont already has worked a miracle on the football field and now he seems to expect one off it.

Pont, whose Hoosiers won a trip to the Rose Bowl by shocking third-ranked Purdue 19-14 Saturday, said Sunday his team now would get a three-week rest and added:

"Our players now go back to leading normal lives."

This makes Pont either a supreme optimist or one of the greatest dry wits in Indiana since Herb Shriner.

Nothing even remotely connected with Indiana football has been normal since the season started.

The sophomore-loaded Hoosiers did the unexpected by winning their first eight games to make the Top Ten, did the expected by losing to Minnesota and dropping out of the national ranking and then did the unexpected again by beating Purdue.

Now the Hoosiers will face first-ranked Southern California, which finished the previous weekend with a 9-1 record—a task which shouldn't be much more difficult than that of returning to normal lives.

Indiana tied Purdue and Minnesota for the Big Ten title at 6-1, but the Hoosiers got the bowl bid because they have never been there. Minnesota, 8-2 over all, scored twice in the third quarter to beat Wisconsin 21-14. Purdue also finished at 8-2 overall.

All of the other major bowl pairings were completed Saturday.

Florida State, 7-2-1, nipped Florida 21-16 and was picked to meet Penn State, 8-2 and a 42-6 victory over Pittsburgh, in the Gator Bowl at Jacksonville, Fla., and Texas at El Paso, 6-2-1, trounced Utah 28-8 and was tabbed to play Mississippi, 5-3-1, in the Sun Bowl at El Paso. Both games will be played Dec. 30.

Idle North Carolina State, which lost its last two games after winning the first eight, got some good news. The Wolfpack will meet Georgia, 7-3 and 21-14 conqueror of Georgia Tech, in the Liberty Bowl at Memphis, Tenn., Dec. 16.

Purdue wasn't the only member of the Top Ten to get upset Saturday.

Syracuse surprised fourth-ranked UCLA, 7-2-1, 32-14 as Rick Cassata ran for two TDs and passed for another pair and Tulsa got two second-half scoring passes from Mike Stribling and beat No. 10 Houston, 7-3, 22-13.

In the only other game involving a Top Ten team, five pass interceptions helped second-ranked Tennessee to a 17-7 victory over Kentucky. The Volunteers, 8-1, are headed for the Orange Bowl against No. 5 Oklahoma, 9-1, which beat Nebraska 21-14 Thanksgiving Day.

Seventh-ranked Wyoming, 10-0 and bound for the Sugar Bowl against Louisiana State, which beat Tulane 41-27, and No. 9 Alabama, 7-1-1, headed for the Cotton Bowl against idle Texas A&M, did not play Saturday.

Eighth-rated Oregon State, 7-2-1, also was idle, and No. 6 Notre Dame, 8-2, beat Miami, Fla., Colorado's Bluebonnet Bowl opponent, 24-22 Friday night.

Indiana, which won its only other Big Ten title in 1945 and which was 1-9 last year, scored all of its points in the first half and then held off Purdue, which lost four fumbles including one on the Hoosiers' one-yard line, in the second half. Gerry Cole ran 63 yards for one Indiana TD, rambled 42 yards to set up another and Harry Gonso passed for one.

Texas at El Paso quarterback Billy Stevens set an NCAA career record of 51 TD passes by throwing two against Utah.

In other big games, Clemson won the Atlantic Conference championship by topping South Carolina 23-12, Ivy League king Yale edged Harvard 24-20 in The Game, Colorado drubbed Air Force 33-0 Memphis State knocked North Texas State from the major unbeaten list, 29-20, and Texas Tech edged Arkansas 31-27, apparently costing the Razorbacks a Liberty Bowl bid.

UCLA To Dominate College Basketball

By TED MEIER
Associated Press Sports Writer

UCLA and Adolph Rupp, veteran Kentucky coach, may set all-time records in the college basketball season that opens officially Friday night.

UCLA, favored to win its second straight national championship, may be shooting for an all-time 61-game winning streak. Rupp can become the all-time winning coach with 772 triumphs.

UCLA, with 7-foot-1 Lew Alcindor as the key, seeks its 35th consecutive victory in its opening game against Purdue at Lafayette, Ind., Saturday afternoon.

The Bruins of Coach Johnny Wooden were unbeaten in 30 games last season. They had started the 1967 season with a carryover of four in a row. Thus it is possible for them to erase this season the record of 60 in a row set by the University of San Francisco 12 years ago when Big Bill Russell, now of the pro Boston Celtics, starred for the Dons.

And with the towering Alcindor back as a junior, along with other stars such as Lucius Allen, Mike Warren, Ken Heitz and Lynn Shackelford, most observers believe UCLA will do it.

Rupp, already the winningest active coach with 760 career victories, needs only 12 more by his Kentucky Wildcats to break the all-time record of 771 held by the retired Phog Allen of Kansas. Kentucky need only match its 13-13 record of last season for Rupp to become No. 1 on the all-time coaching list.

Kentucky, unranked in the preseason Associated Press poll in which UCLA was a unanimous choice, opens on the road against Michigan Saturday.

Houston was ranked second and Louisville third in the AP poll announced last Saturday. Rounding out the Top Ten, in order, were North Carolina, Kansas, Dayton, Boston College, Princeton, Vanderbilt and Davidson. Indiana and Tennessee missed making the Top Ten by only a few votes in the balloting by the AP panel of 30 sports writers and broadcasters.

Wooden, whose UCLA teams have won the national title three times in the last four years, said the Bruins won't have an easy time this season.

"As a matter of fact, our own Pacific-8 Conference has some might good teams," he said. "We first have to win here before we can play for the national title."

Three of the Top Ten, Princeton, Louisville and Davidson, open at home Friday night. Army is at Princeton, Georgetown, Ky. at Louisville and Bucknell at Davidson.

On Saturday, in addition to UCLA at Purdue, Northern Michigan is at Dayton, Utah State at Kansas, Virginia Tech at North Carolina, Vanderbilt at Southern Methodist and Sacramento State at Houston. Boston College doesn't open until Dec. 5 at home against Dartmouth.

Reflected Glory Makes Comeback

By The Associated Press

Reflected Glory, the colt who was the winter book favorite for the 1967 Kentucky Derby before suffering bucked shins, is well along the road back to the big money in horse racing.

"He is coming along fine and we have high hopes for the future," trainer Hirsch Jacobs said today.

The veteran Jacobs, who conditions the colt for his wife, Mrs. Ethel D. Jacobs, said the 3-year-old son of Jester-Lysistrata would make his next start Saturday in the $50,000 Stuyvesant Handicap at Aqueduct.

Reflected Glory put in one of his old-time charges from last place and won the $15,000 Old Rosebud Purse before the Gallant Fox Handicap at Aqueduct last Saturday. Ridden by Braulio Baeza Reflected Glory made up some 15 lengths coming into the stretch and then caught and passed Flying Tackle who led by eight lengths with 200 yards left.

"He came out of the race in good shape," said Jacobs of Reflected Glory who now has won $161,000 this year with five victories in 11 starts, including two of his last three outings.

Proud Clarion, the Derby winner, proved a disappointment for Baeza in the Gallant Fox. Off as the 2-5 favorite, Proud Clarion finished sixth in the 1-5-8 mile race, 40 lengths back of Niarkos, the surprise winner who led all the way.

Jorge Velasquez, the nation's leading jockey, moved closer to his 1967 goal of 400 winners with a triple at Tropical Park including Icy Nino in the City of Miami Handicap. Velasquez's winners for the year now total 392.

Deer Season Opens Today In Penna.

HARRISBURG (AP) — The deer season opened in Pennsylvania today and the State Game Commission predicts a plentiful supply of whitetail.

A total of 118,753 deer were bagged last season. However, the commission reports this year's fawn crop more than replaced that number.

The season runs through Dec. 9 with shooting hours from one-half hour before sunrise to sunset; Sundays excepted. The season limit is still one deer per hunter.

Courtney Staves Off Wall's Great Charge

SAN JUAN, P.R. (AP) — A fantastic charge by Art Wall just missed, as did a bid for a hole in one, and Chuck Courtney held on for a two-stroke victory in the Puerto Rico Open Golf Tournament.

Wall, a veteran from Pocono Maner, Pa., fired a five-under-par 67 Sunday, made up five strokes on the leader and took second with a 282 while Courtney shot a conservative 72 for 280.

Jerry Pittman had a final round of 70 for 284 and third place, followed by Fred Baird, 70 for 285.

Wins Daytona Feature

Weekend Fights

SAO PAULO, Brazil — Luis Faustino Pires, 202, Brazil, knocked out Luis Urra Paren, 198, Chile, 1.

JOHANNESBURG — Willie Ludick, 146¼, South Africa, outpointed Carmelo Bossi, 146½, Italy, 15.

More Interleague Deals Expected In Baseball

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer

MEXICO CITY (AP) — The interleague trading mart is expected to pick up today when the annual winter baseball meeting opens after a weekend of lobby conversation dominated by expansion talks.

The New York Mets are involved in two deals still hanging fire. The Chicago White Sox still owe the Mets a player as part of the swap that sent third baseman Kenny Boyer to the American League team last summer.

The Mets, in turn, must give a player to Washington as part of the involved transaction by which Gil Hodges was released from the last year of his contract and permitted to sign to manage the Mets.

Cincinnati has been the central figure in two of the interleague deals in the last week. The Reds sent outfielder Tommy Harper to Cleveland for first baseman Fred Whitfield and pitcher George Culver. Then the Reds shipped outfielder Floyd Robinson and pitcher Darrell Osteen to Oakland for pitcher Ron Tompkins.

In the only other interleague move, Detroit sent relief pitcher Fred Gladding to Houston to complete the Eddie Mathews deal of last August.

Deals by which "the player to be named later" is involved will be outlawed if proposed legislation is passed at the major league meeting later in the week.

Many owners think it is not proper for a club to withhold the name of a trade player until midwinter.

The minor league convention opened today and runs through Wednesday. In contrast with the usual formula, the draft will be held Tuesday morning, not the first day of the meeting. When they get around to picking, the number one choice will go to the Oakland Athletics to be followed by the Mets.

The Pacific Coast League formally approved Sunday the transfer of the Seattle franchise from the California Angels to the Pacific Northwest Sports, Inc., headed by Max Soriano, president. Seattle will work with the Angels in 1968 and hopefully will be in the American League in 1969.

Joe Cronin, president of the American League, expects to add Seattle and Kansas City in 1969, probably splitting the league into two divisions with interlocking 152-game schedules. Kansas City has been replaced for 1968 by Oakland.

The National League, reluctant to rush into expansion, has told all applicants that no presentation will be heard here.

"I doubt very much if we will set any definite timetable for expansion at these meetings," said Warren Giles, National League president. "I am in favor of expansion. It is inevitable. But I don't want to have our club hurried into it just because somebody else did."

The leading candidates for National League expansion are San Diego, Dallas-Fort Worth, Buffalo, Milwaukee, Montreal and Denver.

"It might make sense to put up with some inconvenience in the interest of going into the right cities on the right timetables," sad Giles.

In 1961 the National League operated with eight teams but the American had 10. However, the proposed two division of the American League and playoff series could complicate the World Series dates, playoff and raise havoc with the draft.

The California Angels got 25 hits and 16 runs against the Indians on August 23, 1967.

More Interleague Deals Expected In Baseball

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer

MEXICO CITY (AP) — The interleague trading mart is expected to pick up today when the annual winter baseball meeting opens after a weekend of lobby conversation dominated by expansion talks.

The New York Mets are involved in two deals still hanging fire. The Chicago White Sox still owe the Mets a player as part of the swap that sent third baseman Kenny Boyer to the American League team last summer.

The Mets, in turn, must give a player to Washington as part of the involved transaction by which Gil Hodges was released from the last year of his contract and permitted to sign to manage the Mets.

Cincinnati has been the central figure in two of the interleague deals in the last week. The Reds sent outfielder Tommy Harper to Cleveland for first baseman Fred Whitfield and pitcher George Culver. Then the Reds shipped outfielder Floyd Robinson and pitcher Darrell Osteen to Oakland for pitcher Ron Tompkins.

In the only other interleague move, Detroit sent relief pitcher Fred Gladding to Houston to complete the Eddie Mathews deal of last August.

Deals by which "the player to be named later" is involved will be outlawed if proposed legislation is passed at the major league meeting later in the week.

Many owners think it is not proper for a club to withhold the name of a trade player until midwinter.

The minor league convention opened today and runs through Wednesday. In contrast with the usual formula, the draft will be held Tuesday morning, not the first day of the meeting. When they get around to picking, the number one choice will go to the Oakland Athletics to be followed by the Mets.

The Pacific Coast League formally approved Sunday the transfer of the Seattle franchise from the California Angels to the Pacific Northwest Sports, Inc., headed by Max Soriano, president. Seattle will work with the Angels in 1968 and hopefully will be in the American League in 1969.

Joe Cronin, president of the American League, expects to add Seattle and Kansas City in 1969, probably splitting the league into two divisions with interlocking 152-game schedules. Kansas City has been replaced for 1968 by Oakland.

The National League, reluctant to rush into expansion, has told all applicants that no presentation will be heard here.

"I doubt very much if we will set any definite timetable for expansion at these meetings," said Warren Giles, National League president. "I am in favor of expansion. It is inevitable. But I don't want to have our club hurried into it just because somebody else did."

The leading candidates for National League expansion are San Diego, Dallas-Fort Worth, Buffalo, Milwaukee, Montreal and Denver.

"It might make sense to put up with some inconvenience in the interest of going into the right cities on the right timetables," sad Giles.

In 1961 the National League operated with eight teams but the American had 10. However, the proposed two division of the American League and playoff series could complicate the World Series dates, playoff and raise havoc with the draft.

Suggestions For Homes

Get Light Into Basement

By VIVIAN BROWN
AP Newsfeatures Writer

Courage is the main ingredient of the do-it-yourself formula, says Ving Smith, well-known design consultant.

"Our tendency is to buy services, and sometimes we don't buy because we can't afford it," he explains. "That's why our own talents must be utilized."

Smith makes it sound simple as he talks about pushing out walls here and dormers there, but these are not really skillful jobs, he maintains. You need to understand about basic support of a house, employ common sense and have faith in your ability.

"The most important thing about remodeling is to develop a plan and stick to it. Do all your thinking on paper. Try to iron out bugs before you begin. Do a simple plan to scale; work out the character of the room. The area should resemble the plan when it is finished."

MANY PEOPLE see a remodeling plan in pictures and mutter, "It looks great in pictures but I'd bet it would cost a fortune." They never investigate it.

"For example, basement areas of tract houses that were built around 1947 didn't utilize space well. The area is usually a total loss for living. These paces were built quickly during the housing shortage after the war. So a fireplace may be stuck in a corner of a dismal and unattractive room that is never used."

Smith illustrated by showing how such a room could be converted into an interesting lounging pit. Light is brought into a dark corner by pushing out a brick wall and putting in French doors that could lead to a small terrace.

The area around the fireplace wall next to it was paneled in pecan - color Weldwood, the same prefinished paneling used along the staircase to the basement that adjoins the area. In raising the floor and putting a short wall to separate the stairs from the fireplace niche, he formed a sunken seating area, making the small area very cozy. Orange upholstered seats, barber pole lamps, a black and white rug and tame op art liven the scene.

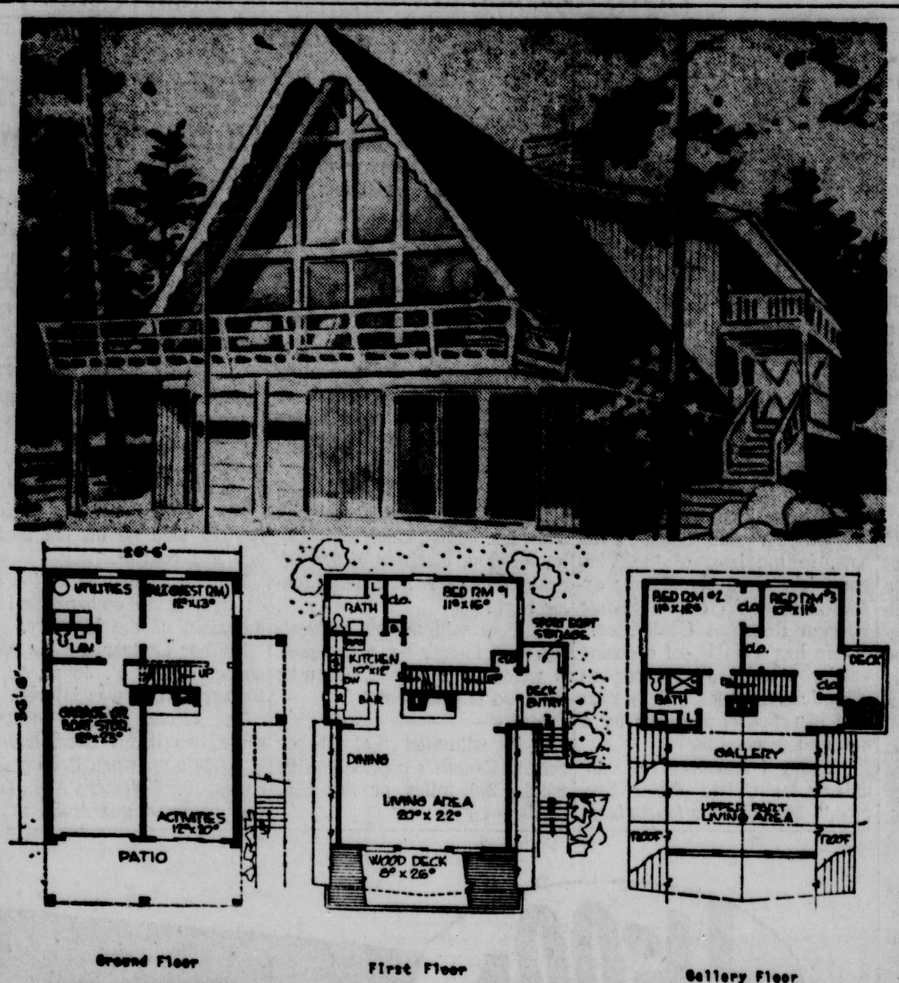
ANOTHER project converted the dormer of a Victorian house into a terrace off an attic, a great idea to make an attic useful as a guest room or quarters for an aging relative. It provides comfort, fresh air, coziness.

Smith pushed out the dormer area to the floor, using metal folding doors along the area. He put a few skylight windows in the ceiling near the door and outside used board and batten cedar with roughtex paneling to create the small terrace with railing.

Do-it-yourselfers can plan the terrace as they would a deck, he explains. Inside the paneling was an antique birch Weldwood.

If you tremble at the thought of knocking out part of a wall, try to locate the original house plan. If you do go ahead, you'll be amazed at how hard it is to eliminate studs and so on, even if you try. As Smith points out, you'd have to be stupid to make the house fall down. But it is possible.



THE A-FRAME PLAN, with one bedroom on the first floor, two more on the gallery floor and a possible fourth on the ground floor, is a versatile plan indeed. The area is 830 sq. ft. for the first floor (gallery about 610 sq. ft.) There is a bath on each of the upper levels and a lavatory on the ground floor. Fireplaces are shown for lower activities room and upper living-dining area. Utilities are placed in the area behind the garage. There is a wide front deck, entry side deck and upper bedroom deck. Plan HA-502V is designed by Architect Fenick Vogel, Room 704, 48 West 48th St., New York, New York 10036.

'Penny Saved' May Be Anything But In Plumbing

Cutting corners on plumbing quality to save a few cents can mean dollars lost in terms of comfort and convenience, the Plumbing - Heating - Cooling Information Bureau of Chicago says.

It offers these examples:

1. — You can't see most of the piping that goes into a home, and this is an area in which builders and prospective home buyers sometimes cut corners. But if the pipe is too small in diameter, you may have to live with noisy plumbing, since too-small pipe is one of its chief causes. Water at one of the faucets in your home may slow to a trickle just when you need it most, because water is being used elsewhere in the house. You may not be able to add much - wanted water - using appliances later, due to a lack of adequate water pressure.

2. — You may think all bathroom fixtures are pretty much alike, but they're not. The better - quality ones are stain and acid - resistant, retain their luster longer. They're also easier to keep clean. In the case of the water closet, the siphon jet has the best flushing action and is also the most quiet.

3. — The best - quality faucets are virtually leakproof. They retain their good looks for a lifetime.

Clever Twist Presented In Kitchen Table

By DOUGLAS TUOMEY

A clever idea in kitchen tables appeared recently and seems to be the answer for the home owner who is not altogether pleased with the location of counters and shelves.

This item is a two - shelf, counter - top arrangement which can be swiveled around to any part of the kitchen. It runs on small ball - bearing casters and floats around at the lightest touch. Pushed over to the range, it is handy for pots and pans which must be cleared off to make room for other things. Brought close to the sink or dishwasher, it is ready to receive a pile of dishes or silverware. When not in use, it can be placed in any corner or left in the center of the floor to double as a kitchen table.

The cabinet - table can be made by any handy man, with great ease. The usual dimensions are 3 feet on the long edges and 18 inches along the ends of the ells. The height is optional and may be whatever is most comfortable for the user. There is but one material used —half - inch plywood.

The table is made by cutting the three ell - shaped pieces. These are then assembled and boxed in with sides, back and short - side pieces. The shelves do not need battens or supports beneath them, but are secured by nailing through from sides and back. When accurately cut, the assembly is stiff and sturdy.

The top may be covered with linoleum or other counter material, and a half - round molding around the top edge serves to keep it in place. Two coats of paint or one of paint and one of enamel are recommended for a finish. If the owner desires a bright contrasting color may be used on the interior of the shelf compartments.

Practice Advised Before Spraying

AP Newsfeatures

Question: I would like to try my hand at varnishing with a sprayer. Can it be done by an amateur? Do I buy a special kind of varnish?

Answer: Ordinary varnish must be thinned about 25 per cent for spraying. Use a good quality turpentine. However, there is a special type of varnish especially made for spraying. All stores do not carry it. Try a hardware store or lumber yard which deals with professionals. Also, you may be able to get it at an artist materials store. If your project is a fairly small one, you might consider the use of varnish in a spray can.

It is readily available. Spraying of any kind requires some practice before it can be done effectively. Practice on a piece of scrap wood before tackling the real thing.

Steel Expects Demand Rise

CLEVELAND (AP) — Steel requirements probably will be heavy over the next couple of months "no matter what happens in the steel labor situation," Steel Magazine said today.

The United Steelworkers' Union contract expires next summer and the metalworking weekly said producers have pointed out that "unfilled orders for durable goods will provide substantial support for a strong steel buying movement well in 1968."

"As of Oct. 1, value of unfilled orders exceeded $77 billion, equivalent to 3½ months' shipments," Steel added.

The magazine estimated the industry poured 2,670,000 net tons in the week ended Nov. 24, up three-tenths of one per cent from the 2,662,000 tons produced the preceding week.

Steel said bookings for January delivery are larger for some steelmakers than they were a year ago and cited these reasons:

— Growing optimism over business prospects for early 1968.

—Resumption of operations at automotive plants that had been strikebound.

The magazine noted a pickup in steel orders from suppliers to the Ford Motor Co. and said "tonnage continues to move steadily to other sectors of the automotive market." Steel cautioned, however, that "continued threatened tieup of General Motor Corp.'s operations is still a dark cloud on the business horizon."

Market analysts have revised fourth quarter shipment estimates upward slightly to 21 million tons, Steel said.

"The over-all tonnage movement in the period now seems likely to better the third quarter shipment total of 20.1 million, about equal the 21 million moved in the second quarter, but short of the 21.4 million shipped in the first three months —top for the year," the magazine said.

"At the end of the third quarter, shipments for 1967 lagged those in the like 1966 period by 9 per cent."

Steel's outlook for 1968 came after a survey of 7,000 managers of metalworking plants.

"With 71.2 per cent of the respondents counting on an increase in sales, the metalworking industry's sales volume is expected to soar to a record $259 billion in 1968," Steel said. "The 1967 volume is expected to approximately duplicate last year's $243.7 billion."

Clothes Pole Installation Takes Care

By DOUGLAS TOUMEY

The old - fashioned wood clothes poles were fairly easy items to install, since the portion which was set beneath the ground was larger than the exposed section of the poles and showed just how deep the hole should be made to receive them.

The new type of pole, usually referred to as the "umbrella-type," is generally made of aluminum and presents a far greater problem, because when fully loaded the wash hung from its acts as a sail, and unless the assembly is properly installed it is very apt to collapse.

The proper way to install the modern clothes - pole is to make a hole in the ground about 1 foot in diameter and 18 inches deep. This should be filled with concrete to a depth of about 3 inches, and a metal sleeve should be set in the very center of the hole and the concrete poured in all around. The top of the sleeve, which is usually 1½ to 2 inches, should be above the ground about 2 inches and it must be in a true vertical position.

After the concrete has set (four to five days) the shaft of the drier can be dropped into the sleeve and will offer a firm and solid base which no amount of wind will affect.

'Rigger' Moves Big Objects With Skill, Greatest Of Ease

By DOUGLAS TUOMEY

The average home owner manages to get a fairly good education in how to handle a hundred different emergencies and repairs, but occasionally he is confronted with a problem about which he knows nothing.

One of these might be how to handle something which weighs several hundred pounds and how to get it where he wants it.

The professional heavy-object mover is known as a "rigger." So skilled are these men in handling heavy objects and getting them in places where they belong that their feats are positively fantastic.

When it comes to lifting weight, a block and fall is the answer, but for ordinary moving from one place to another the rigger uses three rollers and a lever. Short pieces of 1-inch or 1½-inch plain pipe make the best rollers in the world. A 5-foot piece of tough 2-by-2 or 2-by-4 wood makes an excellent lever. With these elementary tools you can move anything.

Two rollers are no good and four rollers are unnecessary. Three rollers are used. After the object is rolled ahead so that it passes over the last roller, that roller is moved up ahead of the object and comes into use again.

By prying ahead with a lever, the heaviest of objects can be inched along by a small boy. When you want to change the direction in which you are moving an object, you turn the first roller in that direction as you would steer the front wheels of a car, and by manipulating the lever you can set the object wherever you want it.

There is a cardinal safety rule in doing any kind of work. In roof work this rule is never to stand erect, but to work around on hands and knees. In doing rigging work, it is never to get your fingers or hands under the object you are moving.

Suggestions For Homes

Get Light Into Basement

By VIVIAN BROWN
AP Newsfeatures Writer

Courage is the main ingredient of the do-it-yourself formula, says Ving Smith, well-known design consultant.

"Our tendency is to buy services, and sometimes we don't buy because we can't afford it," he explains. "That's why our own talents must be utilized."

Smith makes it sound simple as he talks about pushing out walls here and dormers there, but these are not really skillful jobs, he maintains. You need to understand about basic support of a house, employ common sense and have faith in your ability.

"The most important thing about remodeling is to develop a plan and stick to it. Do all your thinking on paper. Try to iron out bugs before you begin. Do a simple plan to scale; work out the character of the room. The area should resemble the plan when it is finished."

MANY PEOPLE see a remodeling plan in pictures and mutter, "It looks great in pictures but I'd bet it would cost a fortune." They never investigate it.

"For example, basement areas of tract houses that were built around 1947 didn't utilize space well. The area is usually a total loss for living. These paces were built quickly during the housing shortage after the war. So a fireplace may be stuck in a corner of a dismal and unattractive room that is never used."

Smith illustrated by showing how such a room could be converted into an interesting lounging pit. Light is brought into a dark corner by pushing out a brick wall and putting in French doors that could lead to a small terrace.

The area around the fireplace wall next to it was paneled in pecan - color Weldwood, the same prefinished paneling used along the staircase to the basement that adjoins the area. In raising the floor and putting a short wall to separate the stairs from the fireplace niche, he formed a sunken seating area, making the small area very cozy. Orange upholstered seats, barber pole lamps, a black and white rug and tame op art liven the scene.

ANOTHER project converted the dormer of a Victorian house into a terrace off an attic, a great idea to make an attic useful as a guest room or quarters for an aging relative. It provides comfort, fresh air, coziness.

Smith pushed out the dormer area to the floor, using metal folding doors along the area. He put a few skylight windows in the ceiling near the door and outside used board and batten cedar with roughtex paneling to create the small terrace with railing.

Woman, 48, Found Slain In Duquesne

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Cries in the night mistaken by neighbors for a domestic quarrel left police today with the murder of a middle-aged recluse, butchered in her shuttered home.

"It's one of those murders you read about," said Allegheny County Detective Martin Corcoran. "Only someone with a perverted and deranged mind could concoct something like this."

The mutilated body of Mary S. Husar, 48, was found Sunday in her blood-splattered kitchen seven hours after neighbors heard a woman's screams.

"They thought the screaming was coming from a nearby house and was just another quarrel" in the low-rent Burns Project area of suburban Duquesne, Corcoran said.

Mrs. Husar, divorced 15 years ago, lived alone in her cluttered house, without light and gas for a year.

Authorities said they weren't sure of the motive. Four opened purses were found downstairs, but in an upstairs dresser police found $200 in cash and 62 $25 U. S. War Bonds.

"In my 25 years in police work," Corcoran said. "I've never known a robber who went in and mutulated a body like this'"

Mrs. Husar's partially — dismembered body was stabbed 26 times. Police said they found two paring knives in the kitchen.

George Patrisco, 30, said he saw three men running from the victim's house as he was coming home about 2 a.m. He said he called for them to stop, but one of the men hit him with a brick and kept running.

Patrisco said he called police about seven hours later when another neighbor noticed a normally shuttered window was open. He said he then remembered his own experience.

The victim was a familiar, wraith-like figure on her lone, early morning walks through the winding, hilly streets of the neighborhood. But neighbors said she shied away from contact.

Her brother, John S. Husar, who lives next door, said, "She used to walk alone every morning. Several times she said she had been followed."

Young Driver Jailed 6 Days

An 18 - year - old Substation area driver was given six days in jail on two charges of leaving the scene of an accident when he faced Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff today as an aftermath of a series of three collisions Friday night.

Larry Allen Vincent of Coolidge Ave. was given a three-day jail term on each of the hit - skip charges. He also was fined $50 and costs and given a 30 - day suspension of his operator's permit on a reckless driving charge.

Police said Vincent's car first was involved in a collision at Walnut and E. 3rd St. with a car operated by Arthur J. Tiller, 25, of 2114 Ohio Ave. Vincent did not halt, although he was pursued several blocks by Tiller, officers said. A few minutes later, Vincent's car was involved in a collision at the top of the St. Clair Ave. grade near Highland Colony with a car operated by Joseph J. Arcuragi, 17, of Wyoming Ave., police said.

Vincent's car finally struck a utility pole on St. Clair Ave. near Park Blvd. He pleaded guilty to the reckless driving charge and one of the hit-skip counts. He pleaded "no contest" on the hit - skip count involving the Arcuragi auto.

Patrolmen H. Clyde Dillon and Leonard Richards, the arresting officers, and Arcuragi and Tiller testified in the case.

"It's a vicious act to hit another car and then drive away, not knowing if someone is killed or injured badly," the judge told Vincent. "That's the coward's way out."

As an aftermatch of another collision on Dresden Ave. last Wednesday, Wesley Tustin of Georgetown was fined $25 and costs on a charge of failure to stop in the assured clear distance. He was cited after his car hit another from the rear.

U.S. Senate Bid Revealed By Schweiker

HARRISBURG (AP) — U.S. Rep. Richard S. Schweiker, rejecting President Johnson's handling of the Vietnam War, announced today he was a candidate for the Republican nomination to the U.S. Senate.

The Montgomery County lawmaker also criticized the Vietnam position of U.S. Sen. Joseph S. Clark, D-Pa., whose seat will be up for election next year. Clark is seeking a third term.

Schweiker said Clark "even now, in the heat of the Vietnam debate, rarely attends executive sessions of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee."

"He has a habit...of choosing vastily simplified positions on complicated issues," Schweiker said in remarks prepared for a news conference here.

"'Today I announce my candidacy for United States Senator," Schweiker, a fourth-term congressman from Worcester, said.

"'I am in it until November 5th when our state will have a new voice in the Senate and Hugh Scott will be promoted to senior Senator," he added.

Woman, 48, Found Slain In Duquesne

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Cries in the night mistaken by neighbors for a domestic quarrel left police today with the murder of a middle-aged recluse, butchered in her shuttered home.

"It's one of those murders you read about," said Allegheny County Detective Martin Corcoran. "Only someone with a perverted and deranged mind could concoct something like this."

The mutilated body of Mary S. Husar, 48, was found Sunday in her blood-splattered kitchen seven hours after neighbors heard a woman's screams.

"They thought the screaming was coming from a nearby house and was just another quarrel" in the low-rent Burns Project area of suburban Duquesne, Corcoran said.

Mrs. Husar, divorced 15 years ago, lived alone in her cluttered house, without light and gas for a year.

Authorities said they weren't sure of the motive. Four opened purses were found downstairs, but in an upstairs dresser police found $200 in cash and 62 $25 U. S. War Bonds.

"In my 25 years in police work," Corcoran said. "I've never known a robber who went in and mutulated a body like this."

Mrs. Husar's partially — dismembered body was stabbed 26 times. Police said they found two paring knives in the kitchen.

George Patrisco, 30, said he saw three men running from the victim's house as he was coming home about 2 a.m. He said he called for them to stop, but one of the men hit him with a brick and kept running.

Keep In Trim

By IDA JEAN KAIN

Toning And Reducing Measures

A mother who is confined to a wheelchair because of polio 15 years ago has asked for help in reducing. She has set her heart on looking and feeling her best when her son returns from Vietnam. She writes:

Ida Jean Kain

"If I could lose 15 pounds in six months and tone up, I would be the happiest person! That is when my son comes home from Vietnam. My second son is being married in the summer. I want to at least look my age, instead 10 years older. I'm 48.

"I need exercise to restore tone to the abdominals and bring my stomach up off my lap. My waist is lost between bust and hips. I believe all this flabbiness is caused by no exercise. I weigh 157 and I am 5-foot-3.

"I have a doctor's appointment next week, but I need every bit of encouragement I can get. Please help," she urges.

GLADLY. My first suggestion is that you ask your doctor to recommend a physical therapist to help you start on the right course. With remedial exercises, exactness is essential. Talk with the therapist about the following exercise routine:

You can work with the abdominals and with the trunk muscles and arms. There is excitement in the idea that, if you pit muscle against muscle and hold the contraction, you can increase tone even though you are confined to a wheelchair.

The technique is to hold the muscle contraction for six seconds. Start easily. Do not apply maximum pressure for the first few weeks. Hold the contraction for six or eight seconds, not longer. Do not hold your breath.

With back of hips touching chairback, contract the abdominals. Pull up-and-in and hold. Repeat three times. Then, raise arms overhead and hold the upstretch as you bend sidewards at the waist. At the end of the bend — h-o-l-d. Repeat 4 to 6 times.

TO STRAIGHTEN shoulders and tone neck muscles, push. Sit with back straight, head erect. Clasp hands behind head, arms in straight line with the shoulders. Pull forward with hands as you push back with head against hands. Three times.

To tone jawline and throat muscles place palm under chin, head erect. Exert pressure with chin, brace with palm. Hands clasped in front of chest, p-u-l-l. Use the isometric principle to tone up as you reduce weight.

About your diet. Protein retention is aided when you take smaller amounts of food at more frequent intervals. Have small meals, and have a glass of skim milk, reinforced with skim milk powder between meals — 3 glasses daily. Build meals around the protective foods which furnish the replenishing nutrients. Keep total calories to 900 a day.

With the marvelous spirit expressed in your letter you can work a miracle to restore your bloom. Bless you.

Send stamped, self - addressed, long envelope for New Calorie Chart and Isometric Exercises. Address your request to Ida Jean Kain in care of The Review. Postcard requests cannot be answered.

King, 80 Aides Plan Huge D.C. Disobedience Program

FROGMORE, S.C. (AP) — Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. and about 80 of his top lieutenants from across the nation are mapping strategy for a massive civil disobedience program for Washington, D.C., next spring.

The week-long session, closed to the press, concerns civil disobedience moves such as a possible "tent-in" across from the White House and sit-down demonstrations in the offices of congressmen, a King spokesman said.

The demonstrations would continue indefinitely "should Congress fail to enact meaningful reform measures for America's poor," said Tom Offenburger, the King aide.

Offenburger said Sunday in an Atlanta interview that the strategy session also will consider recruitment of a hard-core cadre of 2,000 volunteers from 10 of the nation's cities who would plan the Washington protests.

He said the demonstrations would be nonviolent.

"What we hope to do is to build up pressure for reforms," Offenburger said.

"We think that the present mood of Congress is not conducive to really meaningful legislative reforms in terms of the poor," Offenburger said. "They're just barely getting the poverty bill out of Congress now, and its been cut and isn't sufficient."

He said King's Southern Christian Leadership Conference, joined by other civil rights groups, will go to Washington in the spring "with specific proposals for the government around the question of jobs and income.

"We're appealing to the federal government for action," Offenburger said. "For example, Dr. King has called for a guaranteed income, and a massive works program to provide jobs. Reforms are needed in the welfare system, and there's the task of rebuilding slums."

Offenburger said demonstrations would take place if legislative action failed to materialize.

Banking Leaders Pledge Full Support Of American Dollar

WASHINGTON (AP) — Banking leaders from seven nations comprising the international gold pool have promised to fully support the United States in its efforts to defend the dollar from heavy speculation in gold.

Meeting in Frankfurt, Germany, the bankers anounced Sunday they possess sufficient gold reserves to guarantee the present $35-an-ounce exchange rate. But they invited other nations to help defend the gold rate in the face of the frenzied wave of buying touched off by Great Britain's devaluation of the pound.

In a brief statement, the bankers said they "took decisions on specific measures to insure by coordinated actions orderly conditions in the exchange markets and to support...the fixed price."

"The volume of gold and foreign exchange reserves at their disposal guarantees the success of these actions," the statement declared.

Details of the actions were not announced.

In Washington, the invitation to other nations to join the gold pool was seen as directed toward France, which left the pool in June. The United States has assumed the 9 per cent share held by the French, increasing U.S. participation to 59 per cent.

There have been reports that banks of other nations, including France, have joined the gold run in the London market. A French official Friday denied responsibility for the gold-buying wave.

However, the British press Sunday attacked French President Charles de Gaulle on charges of attempting to sabotage Britain's devaluation plans and overthrow the international stability of the dollar.

The United States, seconded by the International Monetary Fund, has reaffirmed previous commitments to maintain the present price of gold.

For an interesting salad marinate drained cooked broccoli in French dressing and serve on lettuce; top with a little sour cream (the commercial kind) mixed with mayonnaise; sprinkle with paprika.

Toning And Reducing Measures

A mother who is confined to a wheelchair because of polio 15 years ago has asked for help in reducing. She has set her heart on looking and feeling her best when her son returns from Vietnam. She writes:

Ida Jean Kain

"If I could lose 15 pounds in six months and tone up, I would be the happiest person! That is when my son comes home from Vietnam. My second son is being married in the summer. I want to at least look my age, instead 10 years older. I'm 48.

"I need exercise to restore tone to the abdominals and bring my stomach up off my lap. My waist is lost between bust and hips. I believe all this flabbiness is caused by no exercise. I weigh 157 and I am 5-foot-3.

"I have a doctor's appointment next week, but I need every bit of encouragement I can get. Please help," she urges.

GLADLY. My first suggestion is that you ask your doctor to recommend a physical therapist to help you start on the right course. With remedial exercises, exactness is essential. Talk with the therapist about the following exercise routine:

You can work with the abdominals and with the trunk muscles and arms. There is excitement in the idea that, if you pit muscle against muscle and hold the contraction, you can increase tone even though you are confined to a wheelchair.

The technique is to hold the muscle contraction for six seconds. Start easily. Do not apply maximum pressure for the first few weeks. Hold the contraction for six or eight seconds, not longer. Do not hold your breath.

With back of hips touching chairback, contract the abdominals. Pull up-and-in and hold. Repeat three times. Then, raise arms overhead and hold the upstretch as you bend sidewards at the waist. At the end of the bend — h-o-l-d. Repeat 4 to 6 times.

TO STRAIGHTEN shoulders and tone neck muscles, push. Sit with back straight, head erect. Clasp hands behind head, arms in straight line with the shoulders. Pull forward with hands as you push back with head against hands. Three times.

To tone jawline and throat muscles place palm under chin, head erect. Exert pressure with chin, brace with palm. Hands clasped in front of chest, p-u-l-l. Use the isometric principle to tone up as you reduce weight.

About your diet. Protein retention is aided when you take smaller amounts of food at more frequent intervals. Have small meals, and have a glass of skim milk, reinforced with skim milk powder between meals — 3 glasses daily. Build meals around the protective foods which furnish the replenishing nutrients. Keep total calories to 900 a day.

With the marvelous spirit expressed in your letter you can work a miracle to restore your bloom. Bless you.

King, 80 Aides Plan Huge D.C. Disobedience Program

FROGMORE, S.C. (AP) — Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. and about 80 of his top lieutenants from across the nation are mapping strategy for a massive civil disobedience program for Washington, D.C., next spring.

The week-long session, closed to the press, concerns civil disobedience moves such as a possible "tent-in" across from the White House and sit-down demonstrations in the offices of congressmen, a King spokesman said.

The demonstrations would continue indefinitely "should Congress fail to enact meaningful reform measures for America's poor," said Tom Offenburger, the King aide.

Offenburger said Sunday in an Atlanta interview that the strategy session also will consider recruitment of a hard-core cadre of 2,000 volunteers from 10 of the nation's cities who would plan the Washington protests.

He said the demonstrations would be nonviolent.

"What we hope to do is to build up pressure for reforms," Offenburger said.

"We think that the present mood of Congress is not conducive to really meaningful legislative reforms in terms of the poor," Offenburger said. "They're just barely getting the poverty bill out of Congress now, and its been cut and isn't sufficient."

He said King's Southern Christian Leadership Conference, joined by other civil rights groups, will go to Washington in the spring "with specific proposals for the government around the question of jobs and income.

"We're appealing to the federal government for action," Offenburger said. "For example, Dr. King has called for a guaranteed income, and a massive works program to provide jobs. Reforms are needed in the welfare system, and there's the task of rebuilding slums."

Offenburger said demonstrations would take place if legislative action failed to materialize.

Banking Leaders Pledge Full Support Of American Dollar

WASHINGTON (AP) — Banking leaders from seven nations comprising the international gold pool have promised to fully support the United States in its efforts to defend the dollar from heavy speculation in gold.

Meeting in Frankfurt, Germany, the bankers anounced Sunday they possess sufficient gold reserves to guarantee the present $35-an-ounce exchange rate. But they invited other nations to help defend the gold rate in the face of the frenzied wave of buying touched off by Great Britain's devaluation of the pound.

In a brief statement, the bankers said they "took decisions on specific measures to insure by coordinated actions orderly conditions in the exchange markets and to support...the fixed price."

"The volume of gold and foreign exchange reserves at their disposal guarantees the success of these actions," the statement declared.

Details of the actions were not announced.

In Washington, the invitation to other nations to join the gold pool was seen as directed toward France, which left the pool in June. The United States has assumed the 9 per cent share held by the French, increasing U.S. participation to 59 per cent.

There have been reports that banks of other nations, including France, have joined the gold run in the London market. A French official Friday denied responsibility for the gold-buying wave.

However, the British press Sunday attacked French President Charles de Gaulle on charges of attempting to sabotage Britain's devaluation plans and overthrow the international stability of the dollar.

The United States, seconded by the International Monetary Fund, has reaffirmed previous commitments to maintain the present price of gold.

For an interesting salad marinate drained cooked broccoli in French dressing and serve on lettuce; top with a little sour cream (the commercial kind) mixed with mayonnaise; sprinkle with paprika.

'Construimus, Batuimus'—
'We Build, We Fight ... Do!'

Despite air, ground, and artillery attacks near their construction site, Navy Seabees continue work on a bridge in Vietnam.

The Seabee 25th anniversary medallion was designed by Felix de Weldon, ex-Seabee. The reverse side commemorates the Navy Civil Engineer Corps.

Seabees Are Celebrating Their Birthday Amid Limitless Fire and Brimstone

UNTIL World War II, U.S. Navy Seabees were unheard of. Since then they have been heard of a great deal. As one Seabee put it, however, "Heroes, hell, we're construction men. Builders, not line troops. We'll fight if we have to, sure. And, especially in a place like Vietnam, we'll probably have to."

This year marks a double anniversary for the Seabees—their 25th birthday and the 100th birthday of their parent company, the Navy Civil Engineer Corps.

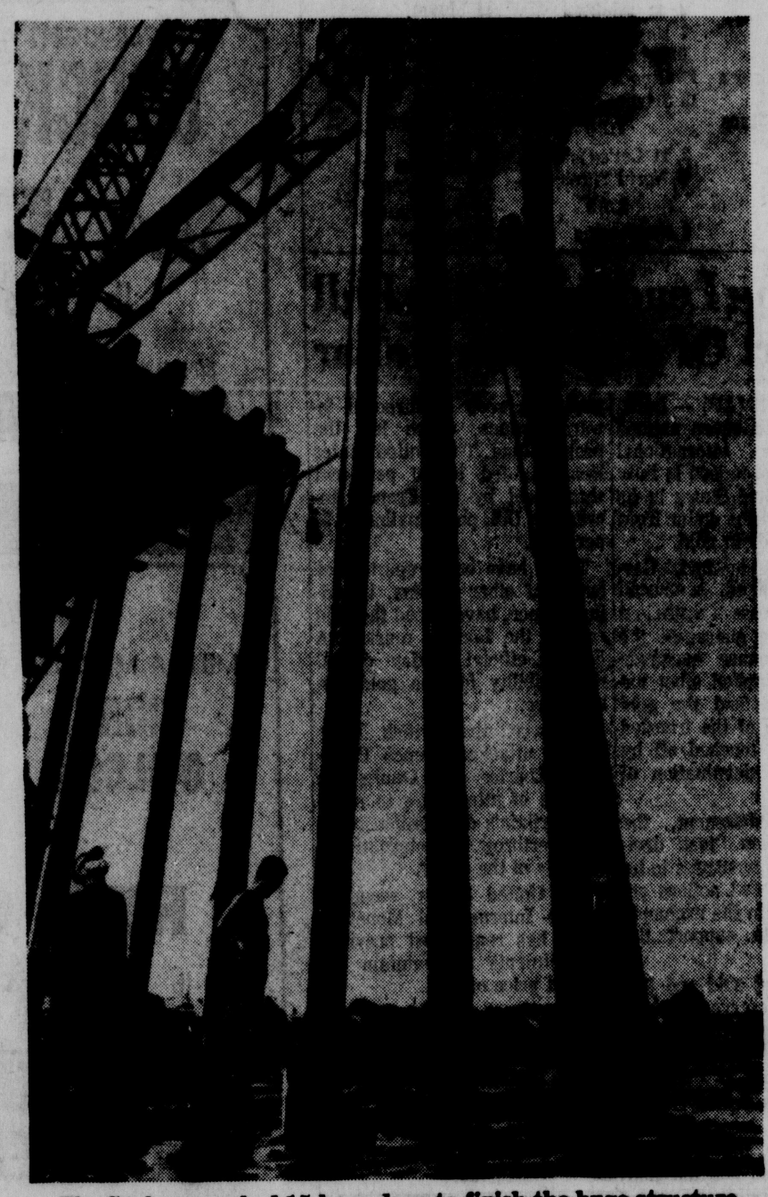
The Seabees first proved their ability at Guadalcanal, where they kept airplane runways open despite repeated Japanese attacks. Next they provided the floating drydocks that made possible the landings in Sicily and Normandy. Additionally, they have built bases all the way from Tinian to Antarctica.

Vietnam, however, was their initial experience in guerrilla warfare, and an expensive lesson. After they had built a missile site and a full-scale hospital for combat casualties, the Viet Cong hit them. Eight of the hospital buildings were destroyed by demolition charges and the 500-man outfit suffered ninety casualties within an hour.

This happened to the Ninth Seabee Battalion, which had a bloody eight-month tour of duty at Danang in South Vietnam. They were the first Seabee battalion since World War II to come under direct attack from an armed enemy. They brought back a "most outstanding" unit citation as well as one Silver Star, a Legion of Merit, seven Bronze Stars, seven Navy Commendation Medals, and 109 Purple Hearts.

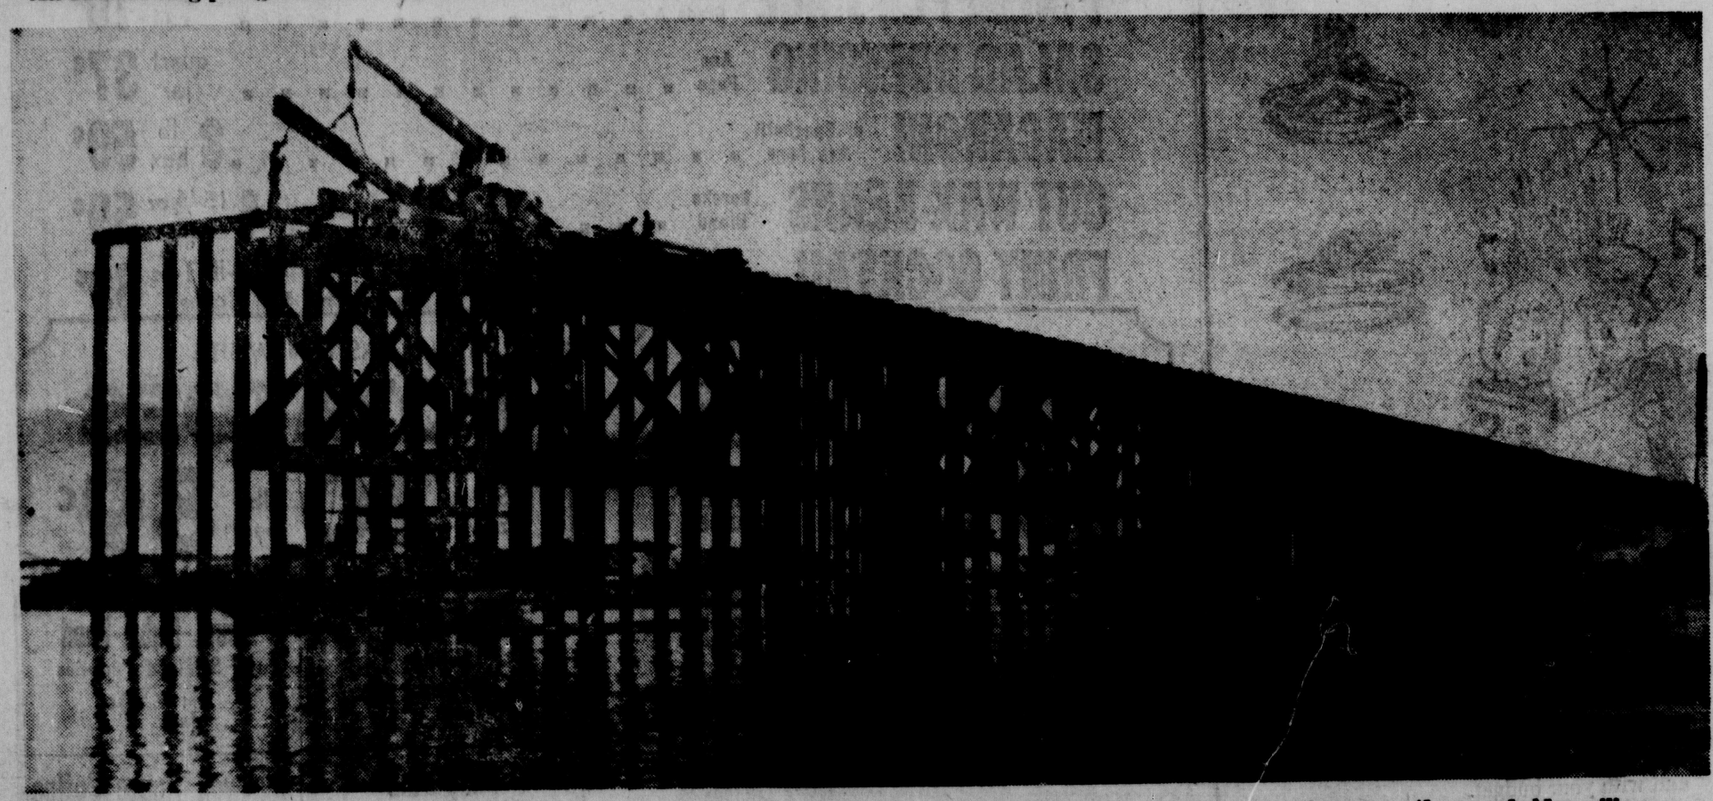
All these accolades go to corroborate the Seabees' Latin motto, which is printed and translated in the headline on this article.

An 85-foot-long piling is lifted into position 32 feet above the water level.



The Seabees worked 15-hour days to finish the huge structure.

Two Seabees saw the excess wood off a lengthy bridge pile.



Another twenty feet is added onto "Liberty Bridge," S. Vietnam, as a Navy Seabee unit lowers the stringers into place over the new bridge pilings.

A detachment is fed hot meals daily by Marine unit.

Gallup Poll Boosts LBJ's Popularity

PRINCETON, N.J. (AP) — President Johnson's popularity has taken an upswing for the first time since the June summit talks, according to the latest Gallup Poll.

On another issue, the poll found residents in eight foreign nations overwhelmingly for the end of American involvement in Vietnam.

According to George Gallup, director of the American Institute of Public Opinion, 41 per cent of persons interviewed in a nationwide poll now approve the way Johnson is handling his job.

This represents an increase in Johnson's popularity from October and September polls conducted by Gallup in which only 38 per cent of those responding approved the President's performance.

Gallup said that Johnson also seems to be winning back disaffected Democrats.

In an October survey, 53 per cent of Democrats questioned approved Johnson's performance. In the latest poll, Gallup said, 63 per cent of Democrats questioned voice approval of the President, an increase of 10 per cent.

According to Gallup, the nations favoring U.S. withdrawal are: Finland, Sweden, Brazil, France, India, Uruguay, Argentina and West Germany.

Gallup said the survey found opinion in the United States and Australia to be the reverse with more people favoring increasing involvement than withdrawal.

Ohio Man Charged With Manslaughter

CINCINNATI (AP) — Albert Taylor, 30, Cincinnati has been charged with first-degree manslaughter in the shooting of a customer at the Old Hickory Cafe where he works as bartender.

Taylor was arrested Saturday night after Fred Hunter, 32, Cincinnati, was shot to death in the Walnut Hills area tavern. Police quoted witnesses as saying that Hunter made a threatening move during an argument with Taylor, who earlier had told one of Hunter's friends to leave.

You just push a button for a sharper clearer picture on Sylvania's new color TV.

That's what Stanley's big toe is doing. Pushing the AFC button (Automatic Fine-tuning Control) to get a better picture in seconds.

Before, to get a good picture, Stanley had to handle the fine-tuning dial with the nimble fingers of a safecracker.

In addition, Stanley's enjoying truer-to-life colors. Because of Sylvania's Colorbright 85° picture tube.

And Stanley knows a bargain. He bought Sylvania's lowest-priced color model with AFC. And got a handsome contemporary design cabinet, finished in walnut veneers and matching solids.

If you're interested, we'll show you this and the 21 other Sylvania color TV sets—each with an AFC button of its own.

After all, why let Stanley have all the fun?

Gallup Poll Boosts LBJ's Popularity

PRINCETON, N.J. (AP) — President Johnson's popularity has taken an upswing for the first time since the June summit talks, according to the latest Gallup Poll.

On another issue, the poll found residents in eight foreign nations overwhelmingly for the end of American involvement in Vietnam.

According to George Gallup, director of the American Institute of Public Opinion, 41 per cent of persons interviewed in a nationwide poll now approve the way Johnson is handling his job.

This represents an increase in Johnson's popularity from October and September polls conducted by Gallup in which only 38 per cent of those responding approved the President's performance.

Gallup said that Johnson also seems to be winning back disaffected Democrats.

In an October survey, 53 per cent of Democrats questioned approved Johnson's performance. In the latest poll, Gallup said, 63 per cent of Democrats questioned voice approval of the President, an increase of 10 per cent.

According to Gallup, the nations favoring U.S. withdrawal are: Finland, Sweden, Brazil, France, India, Uruguay, Argentina and West Germany.

Gallup said the survey found opinion in the United States and Australia to be the reverse with more people favoring increasing involvement than withdrawal.

You just push a button for a sharper clearer picture on Sylvania's new color TV.

That's what Stanley's big toe is doing. Pushing the AFC button (Automatic Fine-tuning Control) to get a better picture in seconds.

Before, to get a good picture, Stanley had to handle the fine-tuning dial with the nimble fingers of a safecracker.

In addition, Stanley's enjoying truer-to-life colors. Because of Sylvania's Colorbright 85° picture tube.

And Stanley knows a bargain. He bought Sylvania's lowest-priced color model with AFC. And got a handsome contemporary design cabinet, finished in walnut veneers and matching solids.

If you're interested, we'll show you this and the 21 other Sylvania color TV sets—each with an AFC button of its own.

After all, why let Stanley have all the fun?

Junior Editors Quiz on SEWING

QUESTION: How did people start to sew?

★ ★ ★

ANSWER: When primitive men had only skins hung around their bodies for clothing (A), they lived almost like animals. But then they found they could take natural fibers from plants and, by twisting them together, make strong threads. They found it possible to weave a number of such threads together. With this discovery of cloth for covering and warmth, men became much more comfortable and more civilized. At the same time, the idea of using needles of wood or bone allowed the womenfolk to sew and make clothes for the whole family (B). Cotton fiber, of the long-fibered Sea Island kind, is most commonly used in threadmaking today. The fibers are first cleaned and combed. Then they are pressed together into blankets, the fibers combed straight and rolled into yarn coils (C). After this, the fibers are drawn from the coils and twisted together on machines to make thread, which is finally wound on spools. The first practicable sewing machines appeared in 1846. These laid the foundation for the modern mass production of clothing.

Traffic Mishaps Kill 37 In Ohio During Weekend

By The Associated Press

An Ohio Turnpike accident that took three lives Sunday helped push the state's Thanksgiving weekend traffic death toll past the forecast total of 35.

At least 37 persons died in highway accidents in the 108-hour period that ended at midnight Sunday. Last year's Thanksgiving weekend toll was 34.

An accident near Marietta Saturday also killed three.

The deaths since early Saturday:

Richard Siley, 19; Saundra Erlwein, 19; James Grimm, 18; all of Marietta, were killed Saturday when their car, being chased by an Ohio Highway Patral cruiser, crashed on U.S. 21 near Marietta.

Robert K. Campbell, 18, Urbana, was killed Saturday when the car in which he was riding crashed in Springfield.

Donald F. Woods, 34, of near Marion, was killed Saturday when his car and a mail truck collided on U. S. 23 south of Marion.

Patricia Burr, 41, Cleveland, died Saturday of injuries received Friday when hit by a car while crossing a Cleveland street.

Alfred J. Durant, 84, Rt. 3, Painesville, was killed Saturday when a car he was driving was involved in a three-car crash on U. S. 40 near Etna, Licking County.

Diodoro Esposito, 93, Springfield, died Saturday after being hit by a car on a Springfield street.

Willen Walker, 26, and Champion Hunter, 24, both of Sandusky, were killed Sunday when their car crashed on a Sandusky street.

Donald P. Babione, 33, Rt. 1, Vickery, Sandusky County, was killed Sunday when his truck collided with a freight train in downtown Clyde.

Mrs. Anna Smith, 56, Jewett, Harrison County, was killed Sunday when a car in which she was riding and another crashed on Ohio 151 near Jewett.

Kathleen Marie West, 25, Temperance, Mich., was killed Sunday in a two-car crash in Sylvania Township, near Toledo.

James B. Scott, 31, Youngstown, was killed Sunday in a two-car crash near Orwell, Ashtabula County.

May Z. Todd, 78, Hillsboro, Ky., died Sunday in a Dayton hospital several hours after she was involved in a two-car crash on U. S. 68 near Georgetown.

Mrs. Edith Parrone, 42, her son, Peter, 12, and Alfrieda Armstrong, 42, all of Clinton, Mass., died Sunday in a three-car pileup on the Ohio Turnpike in Fulton County.

Oscar K. Gautschi, 47, Warren, died Sunday night in a two-car collision just east of Warren on Ohio 82.

Songwriter Gets 60-Year Pin In Printers Union

CINCINNATI (AP) — James Haven Gillespie, who wrote "Santa Claus is Coming to Town" on a New York subway in 1934, received his 60-year membership pin Sunday from the Cincinnati Typographical Union.

The songwriter, who used the name "Haven Gillespie," was born across the Ohio River in Covington, Ky. He went to Chicago as a youth to learn the printer's trade and became a printer here in 1907. In 1916, he moved to New York where for years he set type for the New York Times in the morning and wrote songs later in the day.

Gillespie, who says he wrote lyrics for more than a thousand songs—and insists that the subway story is true—came back to Covington in 1965.

New Effort Slated In Nurses' Walkout

COVINGTON, Ky. (AP)—Another attempt to settle the mass resignation of nurses at St. Elizabeth Hospital has been set for Tuesday night.

The hospital's trustees last week invited the 150 nurses who resigned Nov. 15 in a dispute over official recognition of the registered Nurses Organization to meet with them in the hospital auditorium.

DOVER, Ohio (AP) — The Peoples National Bank and Trust Co., with resources in excess of $36 million, officially opened its doors today.

The opening follows the merger of The National Bank of Dover and The Peoples Bank & Savings Co. of New Philadelphia.

Traffic Mishaps Kill 37 In Ohio During Weekend

By The Associated Press

An Ohio Turnpike accident that took three lives Sunday helped push the state's Thanksgiving weekend traffic death toll past the forecast total of 35.

At least 37 persons died in highway accidents in the 108-hour period that ended at midnight Sunday. Last year's Thanksgiving weekend toll was 34.

An accident near Marietta Saturday also killed three.

The deaths since early Saturday:

Richard Siley, 19; Saundra Erlwein, 19; James Grimm, 18; all of Marietta, were killed Saturday when their car, being chased by an Ohio Highway Patral cruiser, crashed on U.S. 21 near Marietta.

Robert K. Campbell, 18, Urbana, was killed Saturday when the car in which he was riding crashed in Springfield.

Donald F. Woods, 34, of near Marion, was killed Saturday when his car and a mail truck collided on U. S. 23 south of Marion.

Patricia Burr, 41, Cleveland, died Saturday of injuries received Friday when hit by a car while crossing a Cleveland street.

Alfred J. Durant, 84, Rt. 3, Pataskala, was killed Saturday when a car he was driving was involved in a three-car crash on U. S. 40 near Etna, Licking County.

Diodoro Esposito, 93, Springfield, died Saturday after being hit by a car on a Springfield street.

Willen Walker, 26, and Champion Hunter, 24, both of Sandusky, were killed Sunday when their car crashed on a Sandusky street.

Donald P. Babione, 33, Rt. 1, Vickery, Sandusky County, was killed Sunday when his truck collided with a freight train in downtown Clyde.

Mrs. Anna Smith, 56, Jewett, Harrison County, was killed Sunday when a car in which she was riding and another crashed on Ohio 151 near Jewett.

Kathleen Marie West, 25, Temperance, Mich., was killed Sunday in a two-car crash in Sylvania Township, near Toledo.

James B. Scott, 31, Youngstown, was killed Sunday in a two-car crash near Orwell, Ashtabula County.

May Z. Todd, 78, Hillsboro, Ky., died Sunday in a Dayton hospital several hours after she was involved in a two-car crash on U. S. 68 near Georgetown.

Mrs. Edith Parrone, 42, her son, Peter, 12, and Alfrieda Armstrong, 42, all of Clinton, Mass., died Sunday in a three-car pileup on the Ohio Turnpike in Fulton County.

Oscar K. Gautschi, 47, Warren, died Sunday night in a two-car collision just east of Warren on Ohio 82.

Songwriter Gets 60-Year Pin In Printers Union

CINCINNATI (AP) — James Haven Gillespie, who wrote "Santa Claus is Coming to Town" on a New York subway in 1934, received his 60-year membership pin Sunday from the Cincinnati Typographical Union.

The songwriter, who used the name "Haven Gillespie," was born across the Ohio River in Covington, Ky. He went to Chicago as a youth to learn the printer's trade and became a printer here in 1907. In 1916, he moved to New York where for years he set type for the New York Times in the morning and wrote songs later in the day.

Gillespie, who says he wrote lyrics for more than a thousand songs—and insists that the subway story is true—came back to Covington in 1965.

New Effort Slated In Nurses' Walkout

COVINGTON, Ky. (AP)—Another attempt to settle the mass resignation of nurses at St. Elizabeth Hospital has been set for Tuesday night.

The hospital's trustees last week invited the 150 nurses who resigned Nov. 15 in a dispute over official recognition of the registered Nurses Organization to meet with them in the hospital auditorium.

The opening follows the merger of The National Bank of Dover and The Peoples Bank & Savings Co. of New Philadelphia.
